QUINCY-BUILT TANKER SUNK BY U-BOAT

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6 (AP)—The Navy Department announced today that the tanker India Arrow owned by the Socony Vacuum Oil Company of New York had been torpedoed by an enemy submarine off the Atlantic coast.

The India Arrow is the 18th ship reported attacked by enemy submarines off the U. S. and Canadian coasts in recent weeks. Of the 17 previous attacks 16 have resulted in sinkings and in only one instance, that of the attack on the tanker Malay, has the damaged ship made port. The India Arrow, built in 1921 at Quincy, Mass., is listed as an 8327 ton vessel, 468.3 feet long. Its home port was given as New York.

Allies Knock Out 20 Planes

Rangoon
Feb. 6 (AP)

OFFICIAL NEWS

By DANIEL DE LUCE

American volunteer and British fighter pilots shattered a big Japanese daylight air raid today on Rangoon, shooting down ten planes and probably destroying ten more, a communique announced.

Since the Japanese planes numbered 30 this was a certain score of one down out of three but likely two out of three—one of the greatest aerial combat defeats thus far suffered by the enemy.

The Americans alone shot down seven of the total for sure and were credited with five of those probably destroyed in the fierce blow dealt the raiders who had come back by daylight after pounding Rangoon for the third straight night.

ALLIES LOSE NONE

The American and British fighters, the communique said, came through the sky battle without a single loss.

An Army communique reported, meanwhile:

"The situation on the Salween river front has become quieter in the past 24 hours."

It said Japanese and British artillery were in action, the Japanese shelling Martaban spasmodically without causing damage or casualties, and British guns pounding the Japanese-held Paan area farther north.

The Japs attacked Rangood with six waves totalling 44 planes by moonlight and ran into the full fury of the defense fighters when they came back at 9:30 a. m. for a daylight try at the big port for the Burma road to China.

The heavy toll of the raiders was taken by the hard-hitting American and British fliers only 24 hours after they scored heavily in an offensive smash of their own at Japanese positions along the Salween river battlefront.

In that attack the Allied bombers gave Paan such a ruinous

SINGAPORE ALERT FOR 'CHUTISTS

Singapore

OFFICIAL NEWS

By C. YATES McDANIEL

Amid the thunder of heavy mortars, cannon and aerial bombs, interspersed by the chatter of machine guns, sharp-eyed sentinels kept roving watch today for the inevitable Japanese assault by parachutists or waterborne shock troops against this island citadel.

On an extended tour of positions along the watery no-man's-land of Johore strait, this correspondent found tens of thousanads of British, Australian and Indian soldiers manning the beaches, inlets, swamps and rubber plantations fronting on the Japanese mainland concentration points.

ASKS CIVILIANS TO AID

The Singapore radio broadcast an appeal for all able-bidied European civilians to serve with the naval forces constantly patrolling the shore line in launches nad other small craft.

Use of only Europeans for this service likely would prevent Japanese from trying to land disguised as natives.

Meanwhile alarm over the morale of Singapore's Asiatics increased in some British quarters. There were forthright admissions that the flight of Europeans might do more damage to morale among Singapore's Chinese and Malayan population than all the bombs the Japanese have dropped.

Patrols worked constantly up and down the creeks which flow

NAZIS FLYING FRESH TROOPS TO RED FRONT

Moscow

OFFICIAL NEWS

By EDDY GILMORE

German efforts to block the Russian offensive somewhere short of the old frontier of the Soviet Union have gained strength—evidently from air-borne reinforcements—but, according to dispatches from the front today, the Red army is still moving forward.

These dispatches, however, significantly related instances of German superiority in numbers—the first such phrase to appear in a considerable time.

The conclusion here was that with the fine flying weather of the last few days the enemy was able to bring up many reserves by air.

EIRE'S NOTE ON AEF IS GIVEN U.S.

Washington
Feb. 6 (INS)

The United States today formally assured the government of Erie the presence of American expeditionary forces in Northern Ireland does not constitute any menace to Southern Ireland.

The assurances were given to Irish Minister Robert Brennan by Undersecretary of State Sumner Welles. They followed Brennan's delivery to Welles of a copy of Prime Minister Eamon De Valera's public protest over the landing of U. S. troops in Northern Ireland on Jan. 27.

Following his conversation with Welles, Brennan told reporters that he felt "much better."

NO THREAT TO EIRE

Asked whether he had been given assurances the American troops would not constitute a threat against Eire, Brennan replied:

"Yes, that's right. I think the feeling in Eire will not be as bad now as it has been."

Brennan said his conversation with Welles was "very cordial." He explained the delay in delivering De Valera's protest to the American government had been due to the fact that the telegraphic communications betwene Dublin and Ireland were extremely slow at the time.

Brennan pointed out to Welles his government has never recognized the partition of Ireland and therefore considers the United States should have notified Dublin of any intention to land troops.

In his protest, De Valera compared partition of Ireland to that of Poland and called it "one of the cruelest wrongs that could have been committed."

His statement said:

"It is our duty to make it clearly understood that no matter what troops occupy the six counties, the Irish peoples' claim for the union of national territory and for supreme jurisdiction over it will remain unabated."

De Valera added the Irish people

Gen. Douglas MacArthur reported today that the heavy guns of American-held forts in Manila bay have smashed Japanese artillery positions to the southeast but that additional enemy reinforcements for the Bataan battle have appeared in the Lingayen gulf.

With Japan's main aerial units occupied in Singapore and the Dutch East Indies, it appeared the enemy was rushing land reinforcements for the long expected drive to crush the Philippine defenders.

Nine Jap transports at Lingayen were reported debarking troops "to reinforce the already very large enemy concentrations in the Bataan and other points on the island of Luzon.

News of the reinforcements and the fact that Corregidor's guns had smashed Jap artillery positions on the southeastern shore of Manila bay indicated Japan is preparing for a major onslaught.

The War Department communique said enemy artillery positions were "presumably designed for an attack against Corregidor."

For some time now it has been known the Japs must knock out four American forts at the entrance to Manila bay before they can consolidate their gains in the Philippines.

Despite successful counter smashes by MacArthur's forces in the past two weeks, war experts feel that his position is still endangered because of the great numerical superiority of the enemy.

Japan has a 10-to-1 superiority in manpower on the islands and the figure may be even greater. Military authorities estimated the transports bore more than 1000 Jap soldiers each.

Losses Heavier In Atlantic

LONDON, Feb 6 (AP)—Allied shipping losses in the Battle of the Atlantic, including the toll of American vessels in United States coastal waters, are heavier than they have been in the past six months, official circles announced today.

Although the U-boat blows at the Atlantic lifeline still are nowhere near the losses of the worst months during the World War, these sources said, the number of submarines operating along the Atlantic lanes "quite possibly will be increased."

Official sources said that probably a considerable portion of Germany's underseas force now was hunting in the western Atlantic close to the United States coastline, as well as other patrolling shipping lanes across the ocean.

JAPS OCCUPY DUTCH COAL AND OIL CENTER IN BORNEO

OFFICIAL NEWS

Batavia, Feb. 6 (INS)

By JOSEPH J. KOSAK

Japanese occupation of the town of Samarinda, on the east coast of Dutch Borneo, was announced today by the Netherlands Indies high command.

No details of the occupation were announced. Samarinda is situated about 60 miles north of the oil port of Balik Papan.

Samarinda is an important oil and coal district.

It lies at the mouth of the Kutai river and before the war had a population of about 12,000, including 300 Europeans.

Meanwhile, there was no further word from Amboina, where the second largest naval base in the NEI is located.

Japanese troops are known to have landed there from a large convoy several days ago. Latest dispatches day before yesterday said that heavy fighting has ceased, leading to fears the base may have passed into enemy hands.

The new war communique added that the Japanese lost two fighters and "presumably also two bombers" in yesterday's raid on Soerabaja. The Dutch lost three aircraft.

F. D. Says Joint War Council Speeding Aid

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6 (AP)—President Roosevelt asserted today that a Pacific council had been in operation here and in London for a month and that there was very close co-operation in its activities.

The Chief Executive, replying to press conference questions, said the council was handling questions of both a military and political nature and that it had offices here and in London.

Questions of a purely military nature, he said, are referred to Army and Navy chiefs of staff, while those of a governmental or political character are laid before the appropriate governmental bodies in Washington and in the British capital.

PACIFIC SITUATION GRAVE

He pointed out that the Dutch government in exile has its headquarters in London and that the British dominions also are represented there.

Military and naval experts asserted the situation of Allied forces in the western Pacific at the end of the second month of the war was very serious and that still further reverses could be expected.

While fully recognizing the heroic achievements of defenders in the Philippines, Singapore and the Dutch Indies and allowing for Japanese losses of more than 100 ships and thousands of men, these authorities grimly declared that only the delivery of huge reinforsements—difficult if not impossible at this time—would turn the tide of battle against the enemy.

The Japanese were said still to possess the great advantages of time and initiative seized in their sneak attack on Pearl Harbor, two months ago tomorrow.

Theirs is the choice of when and where to attack, and the costs they are paying in troops and material were described as not too great for the advances they have made.

U. S. NOT YET READY

Effective reinforcements, especially in war planes, could block further advances and hold the threatened bastions still in Allied hands, it was said, for the Japanese

HUB AWASH IN STREETS OF SLUSH

All Bostonians had leading roles today in a somewhat breath-taking—and damp—picture in motion which might have been called "Swamp Water."

Wet feet, wet clothing and wet and fuming personalities marked the early hours in town in the wake of a snowstorm which had turned to rain about midnight and then had gone on to clog all the catch basins in town.

In fact it was asserted by some irate—and dripping—ofi cegoers that Boston seemed not to have a single catch basin on the job.

Across slushy lakes, men carried women on the way to offices. Other women and girls, not so fortunate, stepped hesitatingly into liver-colored pools, and promptly went over their boot-tops, or slipped on hummocks and fell in the mess.

Mayor Tobin was in Washington.

THE SPINNING WHEEL

Cars stalled beside curbs and their wheels spun in the slush and ice. Autos free of the icy grip splashed pedestrians with chill, muddy water.

It wasn't as bad, of course, as the St. Valentine's Day storm 2 years ago. That was clean snow.

It wasn't as bad, either, as the hurricane of September, 1938, when the winds blew and the rains came. But wet feet and wet dresses—and

5000 BOYS AND GIRLS IN JUNIOR ARMY AS DEFENSE ZEAL GAINS

With a response that has even exceeded expectations, 5000 patriotic and enthusiastic boys and girls have already enrolled in the new Junior Victory Army, sponsored by the Evening American, the Daily Record and the Sunday Advertiser.

And the week isn't over yet. With the counting of enrollments for today and tomorrow the final figure on enlistment for the first seven days of the existence of the Junior Victory Army should set some kind of record.

The incoming mail of enrollment blanks from all sections of New England has swamped a staff of clerks. These indicate the widespread zeal of New England youth to be a part of the civilian defense effort.

All boys and girls, 10 to 18, in New England are urged to join the Junior Victory Army now and find the defense job they would like best to fill. Those who have already enrolled are asked to tell their friends about this new organization.

90, SHE FIGHTS MOVE TO FREE KILLER OF SON

An elderly woman today protested release from State Prison of the man who shot and killed her son 34 years ago.

The mother's opposition was the only protest filed with the Advisory Board of Pardons when it considered the pardon appeal of Arthur P. Smith, in prison since 1908 for the murder of Boston Patrolman John T. Lynch.

Mrs. Mary A. Lynch of Framingham, nearly 90 years old, was unable to appear in person but protested in a letter.

Endorsing Smith's request for release were Rev. Ernest L. Mills, Greater Boston clergyman; Smith's brother-in-law, his Sunday school teacher and a representative of Morgan Memorial. The latter offered the man a job if released.

Police Commr. Joseph F. Timility wrote the department he had no objection. Ten years ago Boston police officials opposed Smith's plea.

The killing occurred in Franklin st., when Lynch, a policeman for only 9 days, surprised Smith and an accomplice in an attempt to rob a store.

During his prison stay, Smith has become an accomplished musician and plays several instruments well. He was formerly leader of the prison choir and orchestra, and is a member of the band and choir.

Blind Woman's Aide Jailed

Elmer H. Smith, 37, of Mt. Auburn st., Cambridge, was sent to jail for 18 months today on charges of larceny from the nearly blind old lady who employed him as a bookkeeper for 15 years.

Smith, police said, developed the practice of having 94-year-old Mrs. Anna Wales Stratton, of Beacon st., Back Bay, sign checks for more than the amount she had authorized him to pay out. She couldn't see the figures, so she didn't know the differnce.

In Middlesex Superior Court, Smith pleaded guilty to nine counts of larceny totalling $657. Inspector Joseph Breen, of the Cambridge police, estimated Smith had stolen approximately $7000 from the old lady over the period of his employment.

Judge Vincent Brogna imposed the sentence.

30 Indictments Returned In Missing Heirs' Racket

Thirty secret indictments were returned today in Worcester and Middlesex counties in connection with a state-wide drive by the Attorney-General's office to crush a ring of persons who, allegedly, have mulcted estates of hundreds of thousands of dollars in so-called "missing heirs" racket.

Fifteen of the indictments were returned by the Worcester County grand jury and a similar number were returned by the Middlesex County grand jury.

The indictments were returned following the appearance of Asst. Atty.-Gen. Frank G. Volpe before the two grand juries.

The racket was unearthed when the attorney-general's office was investigating estates which had not ben claimed after a 20-year period for the purpose of obtaining additional revenue for the State. The State has already obtained more than $250,000 from this source.

During the course of the investigation it was learned that fake claims were filed against estates by a ring of persons who produced phony claimants to whom money eventually was paid.

Every county in the State is involved, it was learned. Indictments will be sought in Suffolk, Norfolk, Bristol, Hampden, Hampshire, Franklin and Essex Counties.

GIRLS CAN'T AGREE ON HOLDUP MAN

Disagreement in identification of the defendant by three government witnesses today marked the trial of Joseph P. Sacco, 28, of American Legion highway, Revere, in Middlesex Court, where he is charged with participation in the holdup of an Everett night club Dec. 6.

Sacco Vaccaro of Woodside pk., Winthrop, proprietor of the Valley Club, testified the holdup occurred as he started for the parking lot to get his car. He was accompanied by Miss Vera DeEllis, his head waitress, and Mrs. Adelaide Simonds, the club hostess, both of Wodside pk. in Winthrop.

Vaccaro told the court the holdup men took $800 and jewelry valued at $3300. One man held him at the point of a gun while his companion held the women to one side.

Miss DeEllis testified she could not identify Sacco as the man who held her up. She did, however, claim she had seen him in the club several times prior to the holdup.

Sacco denied he had ever been at the Valley Club or even knew where it was.

Mrs. Simonds identified Sacco as the man who had held her and Miss DeEllis to one side and "frisked" them while another man held up Vaccaro.

The prosecution rested after eight defense witnesses had been sworn and court adjourned.

RED TAPE CUT, HUB SAILOR TAKES BRIDE

Emerging triumphant from a maze of pre-nuptial red tape after a breathless 14-hour race to doctors, municipal officials and the minister, a Brighton coastguardman and his childhood sweetheart today are Mr. and Mrs.

With all legal requirements met, Edward F. Barber, 21, of Waverly pl., Brighton, and Madelaine G. Crowell, 20, of Western ave., Brighton, routed the Rev. David L. Martin of 15 Rosedale st., Dorchester, out of bed and the knot was tied.

The youth is a machinist's mate in the Coast Guard, and his prospective bride a classmate of his at Brighton High School from which they graduated in 1938.

Bright and early they set out for what they hoped would be their wedding day.

Learning they had to have a blood test, they had samples taken and went to Harvard Medical School for the test. It turned out OK, and with the certificate they started back to Boston City Hall.

It was then a collision intervened. The youth was driving his father's car and after the collision with a taxicab they obtained another car and continued for the hall.

The marriage license bureau was closed for the day, but that only meant a trip to Wellsmere rd., Roslindale, to the home of City Registrar Francis J. Fay where marriage intentions were filed.

From there they went to the home of Andrew J. McDonnell, special justice of the West Roxbury district court, where a waiver of the five day law was cheerfully granted.

The next stop was City Hall annex, where the registry was reopened to permit them to receive the marriage license. After that it was only a question of digging up a justice of the peace to complete the trip.

REJECTEES NOW FACING ARMY CALL

NEW YORK, Feb. 6 (INS)—"The sky is the limit" for the growing Army of the United States and many who were called for examination but not chosen in the original draft will be in uniform as soon as existing regulations are adjusted.

"We had a pool of 16,000,000 men to draw on in the original registration and our plans then called for only picking 900,000 a year," Col. Arthur V. McDermott, draft administrator for New York, reported today.

"The standards were very high and men were rejected for lack of teeth, bad hearing, inferior eyesight and for what might be called other minor physical defects.

"Now many of these men are going to be called into service. There is pick and shovel work to be done, there is clerical work to be done, there are any number of jobs to which a man with bad eyes or bad teeth or bad hearing can be assigned."

Col. McDermott's comment followed a statement made by Brig.-Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, national director of selective service, made in New York in which he indicted drastic reclassification

PILOT FLAYS LIES IN AXIS PROPAGANDA

Lies, distortion and half-truths are being broadcast by Axis nations to confuse Catholics throughout the world, The Pilot, official organ of the Boston archdiocese, disclosed today in its lead story.

Quoting Berlin and Tokio broadcasts The Pilot warns Catholics of Greater Boston against unfounded statements and frauds spread to shake their confidence in their priests and bishops.

PROPAGANDA REFUTED

"No statement of any kind whatsoever has been issued by the Vatican on the relations of South American countries. This fact refutes recent propaganda broadcasts emanating from Berlin and Tokio," the dispatch reads.

Attacking the broadcasts as the "battle of the short waves," a Washington dispatch states, "There has come a great flurry of broadcasts aimed at Catholic listeners . . . obviously concerted and pre-arranged."

TIP TO THOUGHTLESS

"Aside from the fact the speeches are palpably made up for the propaganda occasion," the article continues, "Catholics well-versed in their religion have noted that, on occasion, mistakes are made which are amusing if not silly.

"On the other hand, here and there the broadcasts are so phrased as to cause the thoughtless to be led astray."

The Pilot refers to a recent broadcast which quoted a supposed "statement by Vatican City" in which the Vatican was alleged to have undertaken to advise Latin-American countries against certain diplomatic moves.

"This unsubstantiated allegation of a rather crude threat was, of course, dismissed by persons who know the conscientiousness and experience with which Vatican diplomacy is conducted," The Pilot story said.

"Nevertheless, in Montevideo, Uruguay, it was thought well to sound a warning against these broadcasts. In this warning, the radio speaker was charged with 'employing spurious Vatican quotations.'"

RIDICULOUS CLAIMS

The Pilot called "amusing" the ridiculous assertion broadcast from Italy "that the President of the United States is waging a campaign against Catholicism."

The Japanese radio said officials of a Catholic religious order in Hongkong had directed its members in Manila to take certain steps, the article continues.

"The fact was that the Hongkong house of the particular order was subject to the Manila house and thus the assertion was made ridiculous.

"The Japanese particularly seem to be anxious to convince Catholics in other countries that their conduct is approved in the Philippines."

Lawyer as Exhibit A Flunks, Client Guilty

Efforts of his attorney to convince an Essex County jury by setting himself up as an exhibit were of no avail when a sealed verdict of guilty was returned against John P. McKinley of Revere charged with operating under the influence of liquor and operating so as to endanger.

McKinley's attorney returned to court yesterday afternoon and told the jury he had had two glasses of beer the amount the defendant is alleged to have drunk before his arrest. He sought to convince the jury he was in full control of his faculties and the amount consumed was insufficient to make any man drunk.

The jury was not convinced.

HITLER'S WAR ON RELIGION

Convent Made Home For Unwed Mothers

By FRAU ELISABETH MEYER

The fiery denunciation of the Nazis and their anti-religious fury, as contained in the joint pastoral letter of the Catholic bishops of Germany last summer, did much to console and hearten the victims of this merciless cruelty.

But the persecution continued. On the very day when Bishop von Galen of Muenster was protesting the expulsion and exile of various religious orders and the confiscation of their property, the Gestapo seized other convents and abbeys throughout the Reich.

Nuns of the Perpetual Adoration, at Vennenberg, were banished from the province, and also the Sisters of the Holy Cross at Haus Aspel. The Hiltrup Motherhouse of the Sacred Heart Missionaries was seized and the nuns interned.

Confiscation of these houses was not, in these cases, to provide shelter for air raid victims. The nuns had been both ready and willing to afford shelter and care for all those who needed it.

But the Gestapo, with virulent hatred of these gentle patriots, converted one convent into a maternity home for unwed mothers, and another into the National Film Office.

PROTESTS IGNORED

Bishop Galen declares:

"And not a newspaper so far has reported these dangerless victories of the Gestapo over defenseless religions, and these conquests for the 'Gaulleitung' over the property of German citizens."

When Bishop Galen went in person to protest at the Chancellory, he was told the Gestapo was an absolutely independent authority, and that no one could intervene. He then protested even to the Supreme Command of the Army, declaring these acts of violence and brutality had a direct effect in sabotage and destruction of the national community.

"There can be no community of ideas or sentiment with the perpetrators of such acts or with those who share the responsibility," Bishop Galen said.

"Let us pray for all those who persecute and revile us, but I refuse all community of thought with them. I would blush before God and before you; I would blush before our noble ancestors, if I allowed myself to be associated with those who expel from their homes, and from their country, innocent and defenseless women.

"I would blush before my worthy and deceased father who instilled in us—my brother and me—a delicate esteem for all women and a sentiment of chivalrous protection for all those who are unjustly oppressed."

CONCERN FOR YOUTH

The bishop declared that Catholics and Protestants alike constituted the defense of Germany and that their patriotism was unchallenged.

"Certainly we Christians will not start a revolution," he said. "Our soldiers are fighting and dying for Germany, but not for the kind of men who, by their cruel attacks upon our religions—their brothers and sisters—are wounding our hearts and dishonoring the German name before God and man.

The bishop then expressed grave concern for the youth of Germany, saying:

"They are still unprepared, malleable, weak. We are the anvil, not the hammer. You cannot withdraw your children from under the blows of the hammer of hostility to the faith and the church. But remember that the anvil also helps to give shape."

Bishop Galen advised parents to counteract the "distrust for Christianity and the church, the hatred for the Christian Church," in which their children are being educated.

PRAYERS FOR BISHOP

He closed this impressive sermon with a prayer:

"Let us pray for our relatives, our religious, for all those who must suffer unjustly, for those who are in need, for our soldiers, for Muenster and its inhabitants, for our people, its nation and its Fuehrer."

The congregation cried out spontaneously: "And for our bishop."

I want to emphasize to the people of this free country the courage which inspires such words. All Catholic bishops, all Protestant clergymen, who make such appeals to their congregations know they do so at the risk of their lives and those of their families.

When Cardinal Faulhaber of Munich asked his congregation to pray for the Jews, and protested bitterly against their oppression and suffering, he was immediately "silenced" and taken into "protective custody."

But these men, patriotic German citizens, loving their land and their people, cannot be silent in the face of outrages to those of their belief. If they must die for faith, for truth, for justice, they are willing to make the sacrifice.

In tomorrow's Boston American Frau Meyer concludes her story of Hitler's war on religion in Germany.)

2 YEARS FOR 2 DEATHS

SALEM, Feb. 6—Two years in the House of Correction was the penalty meted out by Judge J. Arthur Baker of Superior Court to Edward J. Maguire, 47, of Amesbury st., Lawrence, found guilty of manslaughter in connection with an accident which cost the lives of Abraham and Frederick Kady, Haverhill brothers.

DOG MEAT OKAY—Acting on a complaint, two detectives arrested Frieda Hempel, concert singer, as a suspicious person in New York's Central Park where she was in the habit of feeding meat to a stray dog, she called "Brownie." Taken to the police station she took a bite of the meat to prove there was nothing suspicious about it. Freed.

AEF Parade in Ireland Gives Country a Thrill

WITH THE U. S. ARMY IN NORTHERN IRELAND, Feb. 6 (AP)—American troops proudly stepped out in a show for their British buddies and Irish townsfolk in the first ceremonial since the second A. E. F. vanguard landed in the British Isles less than two weeks ago.

A portion of the force marched miles through the countryside to a community where, with fighter planes winging overhead, they passed in review and inspection for Maj.-Gen. Russell P. Hartle, the U. S. commander in Northern Ireland.

Eyes of civilians and soldiers followed the Americans on march, with their own band of more than 50 pieces playing American march tunes.

The British have been in the war so long that ceremony has been cut out, but the American review could be called an official visit of the soldiers to the town, near their concealed bases, and it gave an opportunity for mass inspection.

LA GUARDIA SPURS O.K. OF AIR RAID FUND

By GRIFFING BANCROFT
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6—Warned by Civilian Defense Director La Guardia that American cities "may expect short, sporadic surprise air attacks from which we are going to suffer heavy losses," the House appropriations committee today approved a bill providing $100,000,000 for air raid protection.

The measure calls for $160,590,611, most of the balance going to aid the public health service in its fight against social diseases in the armed forces, to strengthen the Federal Bureau of Investigation's anti-espionage activities, to increase training of war workers, and to facilitate removal of Americans from the war zones.

WARNS RAIDS COMING

The committee bolstered La Guardia's testimony by reporting "enemy air raids on continental United States are to be expected" and declared present provisions for gas masks "are inadequate."

In addition the committee made public hearings on the bill in which LaGuardia frankly said "we are in a bad fix right now and will be for several months."

These hearings also disclosed:

1—A promise by LaGuardia, that as soon as the bill is finally approved, he will devote full time to his job as mayor of New York, coupled with his recommendation that Maj.-Gen. L. D. Gasser, now attached to OCD, "take complete charge of the protective side of OCD."

2—Warning by Surgeon-General Thomas Parran that "traditionally, venereal diseases have become epidemic in wartime," that the scourge "is increasing at an alarming rate in boom towns," and that it is "still the largest cause of non-effectiveness in our military service."

3—Testimony of Director J. Edgar Hoover of the FBI that he "sees good arugments for universal fingerprinting" in this country, after he told the committee that 8 per cent of applicants checked for work in war industries turned out to have past police records.

MANY AMERICANS STRANDED

4—Statements by officials of the State Department that there are 35,000 Americans in Europe and thousands more in the Orient —including 3500 in Shanghai alone—who are "very much in economic jeopardy because their means of earning a living has been removed." These officials said that to date no plan has yet been worked out to get them home.

5—Testimony of Dr. John W. Studebaker, commissioner of education, that to the 5,000,000,000 now employed as war workers, 10,000,000 more will beb added by the end of the year—6,00,000 from those working in non-war industries, and 4,000,000 from the unemployed.

6—Testimony by Mrs. Nellie T. Ross, director of the mint, that $2,200,000,000 worth of gold soon will be moved from New York to Ft. Knox, Ky., and $800,000,000 in gold from San Francisco to Denver. Librarian of Congress Archibald MacLeish said that to date 15,000 cubic feet of valuable documents and other treasures already have been moved to secret Inland storage places, and that an additional 50,000 cubic feet soon will be moved.

The $100,000 000 carried in the bill for OCD is for the purchase of fire-fighting equipment, uniforms for air wardns, gas masks end other material for air raid protection.

La Guardia, in his testimony, vigorously outlined the possible danger to United States cities of such attacks.

"Bombing America would be no suicidal mission," he declared. "If they can get through they can drop their bombs, land and be interned for the duration—a very pleasant assignment."

DRESSED in her "red feather" winter outfit, three-year-old Carol Cheney of Dorchester pours out her 25 pennies for the Greater Boston United War Fund to Solicitor Betty Murray at campaign headquarters. Carol's carefully hoarded pennies will help toward the fund goal of $7,600,000.

UNITED WAR FUND NEARS 6 MILLION MARK

Commr. of Education Walter F. Downey disclosed today that 26 state departments and divisions had reported 100 per cent or better of their quota in the Greater Boston United War Fund campaign, which neared the $6,000,000 mark this morning.

General Chairman Maynard Hutchinson said that contributions received over night had swelled the treasury to $5,850,000. The campaign goal, which workers hope to reach by the night of Feb. 11, is $7,000,000.

Among the state departments which made good showings in their total subscriptions were the Loan Agencies division with 139.4 per cent of quota, State Housing Board, 124.4; Attorney General's office, 122; Juvenile Training, 119.9; Committee on Public Safety, 118.9 and State Treasurer, 117.5 per cent.

$42,900 GIFT

Campaign workers were cheered by a special gift of $42,900 from the Associated Jewish Charities, for the needs of the USO and local Soldiers and Sailors Committee. Louis E. Kirstein, president of the Charities, made the presentation.

"This money," Hutchinson said, "shows what can be done. I'd like to point out that it is an extra contribution added to what the Associated Jewish Philanthropies raised for the Community Fund in their campaign last fall."

$2,000,000 TO GO

Late contributions raised the fund to within less than $2,000,000 of goal of $7,600,000 but with only six days to go, Hutchinson warned that "there will have to be a very great increase during the remaining days of the campaign if it is to go over the top."

Among the latest units to fill their quotas were several schools in Boston and 26 state departments.

The sixth "Dutch Treat" luncheon will be held at the City Club today, with Kenneth I. Taylor, secretary of the Massachusetts Federation of Labor, and James V. Toner, president of the Boston Edison Co. as speakers.

John Boles, movie star, will be a guest.

Speed Rescue of 4 Trapped in Gold Mine

OROVILLE, Cal., Feb. 6 (INS)—Rescuers worked feverishly today to rescue four miners trapped in a gold mine 10 miles north of Oroville.

The men were caught 25 feet beneath the surface by a cave-in yesterday, but a pipe was pushed through the debris, insuring the victims air. J. H. Sharpe, manager of the Morris Ravine Mining Co., said he talked to the men via the pipe and that they reported they were all right.

Nazi Reserve Power Decides Next Move

By MAJ. GEORGE FIELDING ELIOT

There is one major question which all observers of the European theater of war would like to have answered, and upon which depends the course of the world conflict during the coming year—what is the reserve striking power of Germany?

A number of factors are not now accurately known. What were the actual German losses in men and material in Russia? To what extent can these losses be made up? How much is the production of the captive countries aiding Germany? How much damage has been done to German industry by British bombing? What is the present German situation regarding strategic raw materials, especially petroleum?

Maj. G. F. Eliot

We do not have exact answers. At the outset of the Russian campaign Germany had about 300 divisions of all types, and about 8500 first line operating aircraft. During the Russian campaign approximately 50 divisions of all types have been completely smashed up.

Of the remaining 250 divisions, at least 60 are required for garrison and police duties in occupied countries. To reduce this figure would be to invite uprisings and invasion.

NEED 180 DIVISIONS

To maintain a defensive Russian front not less than 125 divisions will be required for front-line service, which means a total of about 180 divisions will be needed. To use less is to invite disaster. This leaves 10 divisions for offensive purposes elsewhere—certainly insufficient to strike at Turkey, possibly even insufficient for a push through Spain.

As to first-line aircraft, the German losses in Russia have probably been just about keeping pace with production. At the moment, however, about one-third of these units are reported refitting in Germany, another third are on the Russian front, and the remainder divided between the western front and the Mediterranean.

The sources from which the Germans may derive striking power for a spring offensive seem, therefore, to be these: divisions and air units which have been completely refitted and reconstituted in Germany during the winter, plus such additional units as may be newly created.

We will not be far afield if we estimate that as of April 1 the German high command may have 60-80 divisions and 2000-3500 first-line aircraft for offensive operations. But even this modest estimate is subject to the extent to which losses in Russia may draw upon these German reserves.

U. S. Official Communique

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6 (AP)—The text of War Department communique, No. 93 of the war, based on reports received here up to 9:30 a. m., eastern standard time, today:

"1—PHILIPPINE THEATER:

"Japanese gun emplacements on the southeastern shore of Manila bay were destroyed by fire from our fortifications. These artillery positions were presumably designed by the enemy for an attack against Corregidor.

"Nine Japanese transports are at ports in Lingayan gulf, debarking troops to reinforce the already very large enemy concentrations in Batan and other points on the island of Luzon.

"Relative quiet continued all along the front in Batan during the past 24 hours. Enemy aerial bombing attacks on our troop positions, which began early in the day, decreased later on. They resulted in no damage. Intermittent artillery fire flared up in the center. There was some increase in patrol operations in this same general area.

"2—There is nothing to report from other areas."

British Arm With Pikes; Hint Bow, Arrow Next

By WILLIAM B. KING

LONDON, Feb. 6 (AP)—Prime Minister Churchill declared recently that the British would defend vital airfields even if they had to do it with pikes—and now to the amazement of some quarters the war office actually has issued spiked poles to home guard units.

The five-foot four-inch medieval type weapons are not considered a joke, at least by the war office, but the press has been quick to hoot at the return to the weapons which medieval foot soldiers once found useful for poking armored horsemen.

The Daily Mail cartoonist suggested revival of the bow, with arrows tipped with explosive "Molotov cocktails," and the use of rock-tossing catapults against tanks.

An editorial in the Mirror said:

"You never know. The poleaxe may return. Crossbowmen of the 13th century might be useful behind the hedges. Archers with poisoned arrows might take tips from Harrold at Hastings.

"The war office may be found studying reproductions of Bayeux tapestry and using medieval manuscripts as military manuals.

Undersecretary of War Lord Croft, who was given credit for the idea, was quoted as saying:

"After members of the home guard have attacked with grenades, mainly at night, the pike is a handy weapon for mopping-up operations."

An army officer engaged in home guard training said the pike's function will be very largely that of a bayonet.

"In mopping-up operations the pike is lighter and handier than a rifle. In street fighting, for example, when the road is full of one's own men at night, it is the point, not the muzzle, that is used with the rifle and bayonet.

"There is no theory in the war office of sending a regiment of pikemen against tommyguns."

Women to Have 6 Colors, Men 7 in Fall Footwear

NEW YORK, Feb. 6 (AP)—Women's fall footwear will have just six colors, including black, a meeting of industry and government representatives decided today.

Men will have black and a range of six shades of brown, including two tones now used for Army shoes.

The colors were agreed upon by meetings of representatives of the Tanners' Council of America, National Shoe Retailers Ass'n, National Boot and Shoe Manufacturers Ass'n, Textile Color Card Ass'n and the War Production Board's leather conservation division.

Women's shades will be repeated from the 1941 fall and 1942 spring colors and will include town brown, golden tobacco, turf tan, kona red and bluejacket.

Men can choose from: Yankee brown national brown, charro brown and a cordovan tone, like Chilean brown, which will be called Rio Cordo. In addition there will be Garrison tan and service tan.

More than 90 per cent of the shoes sold this fall will adhere to these colors, which take the least possible amount of dyes, the association added.

ACCUSED GIRL SPY TELLS OF BUND ACTS

NEW YORK, Feb. 6 (AP)—The government's chief witness in the espionage trial of seven persons—attractive 18-year-old Lucy Boehmler—testified today she joined the German-American Bund about 3 years ago and attended meetings in Brooklyn.

For the last three days the German-born young woman has given a detailed picture of the operations of the spy ring allegedly headed by Kurt Frederick Ludwig. Today, striking in a red dress, she faced cross-examination by defense lawyers.

Asked whether German principles and ideals were taught at the Bund meetings, Miss Boehmler replied:

"They read books out loud but I didn't learn very much by attending meetings. I went mostly to have fun."

TELLS OF TRIPS TO PLANTS

She said, in reply to a question, she was never told that "the sympathies of the bund were not with the American government."

"You knew in 1941 that America was not very friendly with Germany?" she was asked.

"Yes."

"You knew the bund was not friendly to the United States government?"

'I know now."

Under questioning by defense counsel, Miss Boehmler again described three automobile trips which she made with various defendants to Long Island defense and airplane plants in 1941.

MEMORY VAGUE

To many questions regarding the locations of the plants, whether fully constructed, whether men were working and others of a like nature, the witness answered: "I don't recall."

Asked whether Mrs. Helne Pauline Mayer, lone woman defendant, hda ever given her any information pertaining to the Army or defense industries, the witness said: "Never, I'm positive of that."

Miss Boehmler, who has pleaded guilty to a charge of conspiracy to violate the espionage act, said she didn' ktnow why she accepted a job as secretary to Ludwig.

have "no feeling of hostility toward and no desire to be brought into conflict with the United States."

He made it plain, however, Eire did not wish the landing of troops in North Ireland to be used in the future as any argument to perpetuate partition.

"Maintenance of the partition of Ireland," De Valera said, "is as indefensible as aggression against all nations, which it is the avowed purpose of Britain and the United States in this war to bring to an end."

Prior to the delivery of the Irish note, the American government had intended to ignore De Valera's public protest. It is considered possible now that the State Department may reply.

Glass Flays FSA Poll-Tax Paying

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6 (INS)—Denouncing the alleged payment of poll taxes in Alabama by the Farm Security Administration as an "election abuse," Sen. Carter Glass (D.) of Virginia declared today "the FSA will have to come before the appropriations committee this year before they get a dollar out of the treasury."

The fiery Virginian made this statement during a hearing by the congressional economy committee

Sugar Hoarders Face Cut in Ration Cards

As plans got under way today to register the 4,000,000 persons in Massachusetts for eligibility in the sugar rationing program, a plan was unfolded to force hoarders to useup present supplies of sugar before they can draw on rationing cards.

Schools and public buildings will be used on a date to be announced later when all Bay State residents will register and be given booklets of stamps for a three months supply of sugar at the rate of 12 ounces weekly per person.

Each registrant, under penalties of perjury, must disclose the amount of sugar in his possession, and an equivalent number of stamps will be deducted from each booklet to force the hoarder to use existing supplies before stamps can be offered for a fresh supply.

Thomas M. Joyce, state rationing administrator, is now awaiting 200 tons of printing material from Washington before starting the work of registration.

"Definite plans have been made to give everyone an even break on sugar rationing," Joyce said. "Of course, there may be some attempts to chisel by persons not in sympathy with the program.

"The State Rationing Board, however, has full confidence that Massachusetts people realize the situation and will not have to be asked to co-operate the second time. We expect them to do in the future what has been done in the past."

Flynn Radio Talk Called Sordid Plea

By GEORGE ROTHWELL BROWN
Special to Boston Evening American

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6 — Boss Flynn, chairman of the Democratic National Committee, has just delivered over the radio, to all the faithful—meaning the jobholders—the most frankly sordid appeal to partisanship.

The mask of hypocrisy worn by the national chairman has been ripped away, and Mr. Flynn stands, in time of war and national peril, as a man to whom national unity and the adjournment of politics is a sardonic joke.

Mr. Flynn is careful to claim that it is the Republicans who have injected party politics into the situation.

"It now is plain to everyone," says Mr. Flynn, "that the Republican party is not as much interested in winning the war as it is interested in controlling the House of Representatives."

BLOODY SHIRT TACTICS

Not since the days of the "bloody shirt," and the bitterness and hatred of reconstruction, has the leader of a political party sought to attach the stigma of disloyalty to the nation to a rival political party.

"No misfortune except a major military defeat could befall this country to the extent involved in the election of a Congress hostile to the President," says the pious boss of the Bronx.

At a special election in Connecticut a few days ago the Republican candidate was elected, in a district strongly Democratic for years, although the Republican national committee, and the Republican congressional campaign committee kept hands off.

If the Republican party carries the House in November, no small part of that result can be attributed to the speech of Mr. Flynn. He accuses Republican National Chairman Martin, minority House leader, of voting against extension of the Selective Service Law.

SAVED BY REPUBLICANS

He neglected to say that the vote was taken as President Roosevelt was on his momentous Atlantic conference with Prime Minister Churchill.

The draft law was extended by the House at that critical juncture by a majority of one vote. A great bloc of Democrats deserted their own President at a moment when defeat would have destroyed his whole foreign policy.

The day — and the issue — were saved for the President by the votes of 25 Republican members of the House.

Mr. Flynn has done a great disservice to the President and to his party by this speech.

F.D. Expects Congress To Back Nation in War

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6 (INS)—President Roosevelt served notice today that, with the country at war, he expects members of Congress—regardless of party—to back up the government of the United States.

The President's statement came at a press conference when he was asked to comment on the recent speech of Democratic National Chairman Edward J. Flynn.

It was pointed out to Mr. Roosevelt that Flynn had said the election of a hostile Congress would be tantamount to a military defeat.

The Chief Executive thereupon asserted that we want Congressmen, regardless of party, to stand squarely behind the government when the country is at war.

For emphasis, the President repeated the phrase "regardless of party."

He said this was applicable to members of the Senate as well as the House.

24 HUB TAXPAYERS RENEW FIGHT TO HALT EL DEFICIT PAYMENT

Turned down once because their move was "premature," 24 taxpayers today were ready to appear in Suffolk Superior court a second time to file a petition for an injunction to prevent the Commonwealth from paying $3,352,573 in Boston Elevated Co. deficits.

Atty. Richard Gerould, representing the state, agreed to a stipulation that no payment would be made until the taxpayers have an opportunity to again file their petition after the Governor and council authorize the payment.

The case was before Judge Lewis Goldberg, with Atty. Gerould arguing that the petition dismissed yesterday was prematurely presented.

Judge Goldberg commented that the Governor and council could approve the payment within an hour at its Wednesday session if it desired, and the payment could be made before the taxpayers interested could present the petition.

Attorney Gerould consented to the stipulation that the interested parties would be notified at once of any executive action.

material, handling and mailing. It is not necessary, however, to obtain the pin to be a member of the Junior Victory Army.

The metal insignia is a red, white and blue pin similar in design to the insignia at the top of the coupon.

Enroll NOw, Boys and Girls.

Each day's mail also contains scores of notes and letters from enrollees, offering their services in any way to help their country, detailing activities in which they are already engaged and asking questions about the Junior Army plan.

So many hundreds of these letters have been received that it has become impossible to print all of them.

Here are some of the answers to the most common questions asked by letter writers:

Q—When will we receive our insignia pins?

A—The pins, now being manufactured, are expected to be distributed through the mail in about two weeks.

Q—Can a boy or girl eight years old join?

A—Enrollment is open only to boys and girls not less than 10 nor more than 18 years of age.

NO MEETINGS CALLED

Q—Will there be any meetings?

A—The Junior Victory Army will not call any gatherings. Through the news printed in the Daily Record, the Evening American and the Sunday Advertiser, meetings of other youth organizations engaged in defense activities will be printed. Through this news and through pictures, the Junior Victory Army will seek to encourage all boys and girls to become active in civilian defense, choosing what service they like best.

Q—What will be studied?

A—Plans are being made to publish lessons and other interesting features. These will probably include a course of study in primary first aid, a subject that all children between 10 and 18 should know.

Q—What can we do to aid our country?

A—There is a long list of defense activities in which youth can fill important duties. They include such subjects as courier and messenger service; spotting for aircraft; sale of defense bonds and stamps; planting of victory gardens; junior police work; photography; radio; communications; nutrition, cooking, canteen service; making of games and puzzles; helping firemen reduce hazards; care of babies and little children during emergencies; treatment of pets in blackouts; home nursing; first aid and collection of paper, scrap metals and other materials.

ORGANIZATION PRAISED

All these activities are already organized in one form or another by the Boy Scouts, Junior Police of Boston, 7 Day Associates, Sons and Daughters of veterans' organizations, Girl Scouts, Camp Fire Girls, Settlement Houses, B'nai B'rith, Boys' clubs and other youth associations.

Joining more than a score of state and city authorities, men and women civic leaders and executives of youth organizations, Dr. Nathaniel Levitan, state director of the Sons Unit of the Jewish War Veterans of the United States, has praised the Daily Record-American-Advertiser on establishing the new Junior Victory Army.

Dr. Levitan wrote:

"As Massachusetts director of the Sons Unit of the Jewish War Veterans I wish to publicly endorse the fine campaign you are conducting for the youth of Boston.

"In times such as these every boy and girl should join some organization to prove to the world that we are a united nation, from the youngest tot to the oldest citizen—that we are aware of the great liberties and privileges our democracy affords and that we will all fight to keep our enemies from destroying what our forefathers struggled to preserve for us and our posterity."

Woman Branded After Slugging

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 6 (INS)—Kidnapped as she was driving her maid to a street car, Babette Fontaine, 29, former operator of a Beverly Hills escort bureau, was slugged into unconsciousness and "branded" with mysterious red crosses in lip stick, according to her story to police.

She said that two men seized her, covered her with a pistol and one of them warned her:

"I'll give you 48 hours to get out of town."

Miss Fontaine said that she was driven to a vacant lot. After she had regained consciousness from a blow on the chin, she said she found herself bound and gagged with surgical gauze but managed to work herself free.

Her maid, Lucille Payne, said the men ordered her to drive Miss Fontaine's car home and "don't use the phone—it won't be good for you. Someone will be watching you."

Goebbels Admits German Discontent

BERN, Switzerland, Feb. 6 (AP)—Propaganda Minister Paul Joseph Goebbels today acknowledged there is considerable dissatisfaction in Germany over the Russian campaign and food and fuel shortages, but he explained these complaints on the ground the people are "overworked and irritable."

In an article in Das Reich, Goebbels declared:

"It doesn't matter whether one wants to curse things occasionally; the reasons for this may be varied.

"One complains of the cold, another of the shortage of potatoes or coal, a third about the overcrowded trains, a fourth about the eastern front, a fifth about the war in North Africa. All that really is not bad because we are all overworked and irritable.

"Ask thousands of Germans whether they rather would have war or peace, and the answer would be unanimous: Peace."

SAYS THEY'D RATHER FIGHT

"Ask them whether they would rather fight on or give in, and they will tell you they want to continue fighting no matter how long. That is why we face all the grave problems of these winter months with supreme confidence.

"We are invincible because we have one thing—confidence in our own strength."

Outlining the advantages and disadvantages of being a "young nation," Goebbels said it was easy for older political systems to weather adversity but that National Socialism still was so young the people have not yet developed full confidence.

The chief advantage of a young nation, he said, lies in the fact that it meets its problems with "sound realism without being over-burdened by considerations of tradition."

VICTORY WAS EASY THEN

"The process of development, which may take centuries to mature in the outlived democracies, is solved here within weeks and even days," Goebbels said.

"On the other hand," he added, "our special disadvantage is the youth of our national unity, which consequently runs a greater risk when it is being tested and is subject to more temptations."

"Today the German people are more to be admired than during the Battle of France, when the radio carried special announcements of new victories every three hours. It was not difficult to believe in victory then.

"However, when the time comes that the conquered areas have to be held and defended, and when the leaders of the state and the army are faced with constantly new difficulties, then deportment and morale is necessary, and it is this deportment and morale which the German people show today."

Nazis Call on Italians For Air Aid in Russia

By the Associated Press

Germany's armed air force which pulverized resistance in Belgium, Holland and France, has called on Italian warplanes for help in the battle with Russia, it was disclosed today by the Nazi high command.

The disclosure coincided with an announcement that Reichsmarshal Goering, chief of the German air force, had just completed a visit to Italy.

"In fighting yesterday against the Soviet air force, in which the Italian air force took part, 38 enemy planes were shot down or destroyed on the ground," a bulletin from Adolf Hitler's field headquarters said.

It was the first time Italian planes had been mentioned in action on the Soviet front.

Whether the Germans are suffering a shortage of planes or pilots was not disclosed, but recent Soviet communiques have emphasized heavy German air losses.

Singapore Has 123d Birthday While Many Guns Roar

SINGAPORE, Feb. 6 (AP)—Singapore today observed the 123d anniversary of the founding of the city by Sir Stamford Raffles on behalf of the East India Co. The early history of Singapore Island is obscure.

Invading Javanese destroyed the early city in 1635 and it remained almost uninhabited until Sir Stamford started the first trading establishment in 1819. Now the Javanese, inhabitants of Java, Dutch East Indies, are allies of the British.

Naval and military establishments on this island, 26 miles long by 14 wide—220 square miles—have made it a principal bastion of the United Nations in the southwest Pacific region.

2 DUTCH CRUISERS SUNK, U. S. CRUISER HIT, TOKYO SAYS

ENEMY REPORT

Tokyo, Feb. 6 (AP)

(From Japanese Broadcasts)

Two Dutch cruisers were sunk and a third Dutch cruiser and a United States cruiser of the Marblehead class were heavily damaged by Japanese naval planes in the Java Sea, Japanese imperial headquarters claimed today.

This was the score in a sea and air engagement reported in a communique broadcast by Domei several hours after an earlier communique was aired listing one Dutch and one American cruiser and a 5000-ton vessel as sunk in the fight.

The text of the second version:

"Japanese naval bombers on the day following the mass raid on Soerabaja' spotted on Feb. 4 the main Netherlands East Indies fleet, escorted by destroyers, at a point 30 miles south of Kangean Island, and sank two Dutch cruisers and also heavily damaged another Dutch cruiser and one American cruiser of the Marblehead type.

U. S. SILENT

(Informed of the initial Jap claim, Navy Department authorities in Washington said they had no knowledge of any such action by Jap war planes, International News Service said. Subsequent revision of the Japanese claims strengthened the impression that the Japanese may be putting out allegations about doubtful sea victories in the hope of obtaining information.)

20 Picked YD Units In Special Training

Twenty picked units of the Yankee Division started training today at Camp Edwards in various drills, maneuvers and ceremonial formations to be demonstrated to the entire division.

These model units range in size from platoons and companies to large detachments and will receive special training in a score of tactical subjects. When their instruction period is over the outfits will be observed by other troops in need of seeing certain drills or maneuvers performed perfectly.

At Ft. Devens preparations were being made for the formal opening of two new USO centers. The six New England governors and high-ranking military figures have been invited to the dedicatory exercises, scheduled for Feb. 17.

The larger center was built in Ayer at a cost of $70,000 and will be directed by the Y. M. C. A. as an adjunct to the recreational building erected during the last war. In Shirley, a $30,000 addition to the town's memorial building will serve Devens soldiers situated near the new station and Lovell Hospital.

Work on a large concentration camp, consisting of several acres of land completely double-fenced in the ROTC tent city area of Ft. Devens, neared completion today. No announcement has been made, however, as to when the camp will be put in use.

BRITISH BLAST AXIS LIBYAN COLUMNS

CAIRO, Egypt, Feb. 6 (AP)—The British Middle East command announced today many casualties were inflicted on the Axis forces in Libya in attacks on Axis transport columns in the Jebel El Akdar regions yesterday.

However, the British acknowledged the land situation was not changed, although they said that their troops had "a particularly successful day."

"At various points along the enemy lines of communication in and around the Jebel El Akdar columns of enemy mechanical transport were attacked," the communique said.

"A large number of vehicles were set on fire and destroyed, and many casualties were inflicted on enemy personnel."

(The Italians announced today the Axis troops had occupied the town of Tmimi, 60 miles west of Tobruk and about 40 miles east of the Jebel El Akdar mountain region.)

position has become vulnerable at many points.

But America's great striking power is still largely in the factories and training camps. And the material now ready for the fighting fronts must be divided among England, Russia and Africa as well as the Orient and transported with naval protection over thousands of miles of dangerous ocean.

As strategists here view the enemy gains in two months of incessant action, the Japanese have:

1—Prevented offensive use of the Pacific fleet for many weeks by the raid on Pearl Harbor.

2—Forced the Asiatic fleet to withdraw from its Philippines bases and pushed the American defense forces on the islands into a last ditch stand on Batan Peninsula and in the forts covering Manila Bay.

JAPS WIDEN GAINS

3—Completely overrun the Malay Peninsula and put the British base of Singapore under siege with overwhelming forces after having destroyed the mainstays of British naval power in the Orient—the battleship Prince of Wales and the battle cruiser Repulse.

4—Made landings at various points in the Dutch East Indies so that without waiting for the fall of either the Philippines or Singapore they are already able to bomb such Dutch bases as Soerabaja, on which effective defense of the Indies depend.

5—Captured Moulmein and advanced toward the Burma Road, threatening to cut the artery on which China depends for the lend-lease munitions she needs to continue the war.

Despite these spectacular successes, which have required the transportation of troops and supplies more than 2000 miles from Japan, the enemy forces have shown no sign of slowing down or of encountering opposition which their audacious strategy had not provided for.

The more pessimistic among Washington observers fear that this means various Allied strong points will be lost, the Indies jeopardized and possibly overrun and even Australia directly and forcefully attacked.

Yet none doubts that in the long run the weaknesses inherent in Japan's military and naval position will crack under the growing power of Allied and especially American forces.

ARMY OF 2,000,000

Military and naval men say these weaknesses are numerous:

Japan's army of approximately 2,000,000 men is scattered from Russia's Siberian border to the island of Borneo. Her navy, split between the main fleet and convoy ships, is engaged in convoy duty all over the China sea and Western Pacific.

SINGAPORE FRONT—Following the withdrawal of the British from Malay peninsula Saturday, the real battle for Singapore island began . . . with artillery and planes battling over narrow Johore strait, long bridged by a causeway (1), which the British have now destroyed. The powerful navy base area (2) is across the island from the city. Two important reservoirs (3) supply the bulk of the island's water.

'Chutes Now Big Singapore Peril

out the north shore of Singapore Island, within rifle shot of Japanese positions across the strait, where at any hour the Japanese might try to throw a bridge of boats and men.

In other vantage spots stationary lookouts kept on guard for parachutists.

GUARD AGAINST 'CHUTES

The similarity of the present situation to that of Crete—with the proximity of the foe emphasizing the damage a hundredfold—has impressed the threat of "vertical envelopment" on Singapore's defenders.

But the British Imperials no longer will be taken by surprise. Special attention is being given to the parachute threat.

Singapore had four air raid alarms today before 9 a. m. Bombs were dropped during the first three alerts, but Hurricane fighters evidently drove off the fourth wave before its racks could be emptied.

Today rounded out the first full week of Japanese siege. The full strength which the enemy had poured into Malaya for the two-month advance to the strait of Johore apparently was still moving up to the invasion coast or still was being disposed in jump-off points for the assault of Singapore.

By and large, the battle of Singapore now has become a waiting game.

BIG GUNS SWAP BLOWS

The headquarters communique said that defense artillery was still smashing at troop movements across the strait in the Johore Bahru area with the Japanese intermittently returning the fire, lobbing shells across the strait.

Of the continuing Japanese air attacks, headquarters said:

"Our forward troops were subjected to low-level machine-gun and bombing attacks.

"During this morning's raids on Singapore Island one enemy fighter was destroyed and three were damaged in combat by our fighters, one of which is missing."

Japanese fliers concentrated their machine-gun fire and bombs on forward troops guarding the northern shore of the island.

Civilian casualties in yesterday's air raids were 14 killed and 104 injured. The announced toll for three days thus increased to 77 killed and 333 injured.

Ironside Sees Spring Nazi Drive on Britain

By FIELD MARSHAL LORD IRONSIDE

(Written Expressly for International News Service)

LONDON, Feb. 6 (INS)—As the time approaches, the declared intention of Hitler to resume his offensive in the spring looms larger.

Things have gone wrong for him on the Russian front, and it is not in the nature of the German to face danger by standing on the defensive. He will certainly attack if he can.

If economic warfare authorities can be believed, the Germans must have more oil. The only way they can increase home supply is by gaining control of the oil fields of the Caucasus, Mesopotamia and Persia.

This gives a definite direction for his offensive.

If on the other hand the economic warfare authorities are wrong, and he has enough oil, he may decide to make a supreme effort to finish the war.

RED UPSET PLANS

This again gives us a definite direction for his offensive. He must move against the British Isles.

When he failed to reach Moscow and the winter caught him, Hitler's rough idea was to stabilize the Russian front with the fewest possible troops, and withdraw the remainder to rest, reorganize and start again some time in the spring. If he couldn't advance in the winter time neither could the Russians. But the Russians turned and bustled him back.

Undoubtedly the Germans have been fighting with a shortage of air force, for it was the Luftwaffe which required most preparation for the coming offensive.

It now seems certain that troops that were designed to hold the Russians proved insufficient. Their positions were so serious that many unrested divisions have been redrawn to the fight.

MONTHS OF MUD AHEAD

Spring is in itself no magic specific for the Germans. When the thaw comes there will be a month of hopeless mud. And the Russians will still be there when that's over.

If Hitler decides upon oil, and that seems likeliest, we may see some grandiose plan for a double advance through Russia towards the Caucasus and across North Africa towards Egypt, with two great pincers encircling our oil supplies.

In North Africa Rommel is once more advancing, not perhaps with the strength he had before, but still considerably reinforced.

We have decided long ago how and where to take best advantage of any weakening of Hitler's position to the west. It should be to engage in a great offensive to the east, as it is now determined that a force can be maintained across the seas under the most adverse conditions.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur has beaten off more desperate assaults and Singapore will be held if human power can do so.

Both defenses have given us precious time.

MRS. ROOSEVELT SAYS: Exclusive

So Wasteful of Human Beings!

By ELEANOR ROOSEVELT
National Woman Director of Civilian Defense

CHICAGO, ILL., THURSDAY—I did a little work yesterday on the train and wrote a few letters which I hope may be readable. I rather doubt that they will be, because, at best, my handwriting is none too legible, and when I add the movement of a train it becomes very like the scrawl of a very uncertain fly.

At Chattanooga, Tenn., I got out and walked up and down the platform and watched with interest a lady who was also taking the air, attired in white silk slacks and a mink coat.

Later on, while we were eating dinner, two young girls came into our drawing room. They were on their way from Miami, Fla., and I imagine that a good many people are returning from visits to what should have been a warmer climate. In any case, these two girls were tanned, which spoke well for the warmth of the sun, even though they insisted that the air had been chilly. They were autograph hunting, and having stalked their game, retired contentedly.

THE CONDUCTOR gave us an opportunity to come out of our den to see the Chickamauga Dam. We both came to this dam with the President and a tremendous crowd when it was dedicated on a very warm day. I can still remember Governor Cooper's mother standing in the sun. Everyone tried to find chairs for her and for me, while the ceremonies went on. The view of the dam was much better today and I was interested to see the little boats which are on 24-hour patrol duty to make sure that no harm comes to this particular source of power.

When we were not eating, working or writing, I read two issues of the Saturday Evening Post. In one of these is a good story by Clarence Budington Kelland. I cannot help wondering why anyone who writes such nice fiction should want to turn his talent to facts or near-facts of the political world, but perhaps his talent for fiction is a help.

Then I read a very interesting copy of the Survey Graphic, an issue of Liberty, an issue of Time and some articles from the Free World.

ONE OF THESE, on the cost of life in the past few years of war, and the other on Hitler's criminal code, made cold shivers run up and down my spine. How dare we be so wasteful of human beings? It must seem to the Great Power above that we are presuming mightily on His prerogatives.

Bible Originally in Aramaic, Not Greek, Professor Insists

CHICAGO, Feb. 6 (AP)—A University of Chicago professor reported today the Gospels were not written originally in Greek, as assumed by New Testament scholars, but in Aramaic, the Near Eastern language spoken by Jesus himself.

Dr. Albert T. Olmstead, professor of Oriental history, proposed that scholars reconstruct the original words of Jesus by translating the Greek back into Aramaic. He said he believed a much clearer understanding of the exact content of Jesus' sayings would be obtained.

Whereas Greek texts often admit two alternative translations, he said, the Aramaica leaves but one. In translating into Aramaic, he added, it often is possible to determine the exact Aramaic word because it will be the only one which will fit into the rhythm and poetical form of that language.

Dr. Olmstead said the sayings of Jesus contained actual puns which were lost in Greek versions. He cited Christ's condemnation of hypocrites who "strain at the gnat and swallow the camel."

He explained the Aramaic word for gnat was "gakna" and for camel "gamla."

Mom's Duty? Raise Family

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 6 (AP)—Women with families should not spend too much time rushing about to canteen classes, advises Mrs. Edwin J. Strong.

"There is something more important in your life—your family," Mrs. Strong, as president, told the tenth district Parent-Teacher Ass'n meeting yesterday.

"Go to nutrition classes and learn good home cooking so you can keep your family in the best of health.

"The increase in juvenile delinquency is terrifically high—yet we sit complacently by."

THOUGH the Vincent Club is carrying on in spite of the war, Harvard's Hasty Puddingers are faced with far more serious problems of production and have decided to cancel their annual show which is a highlight of every spring social season . . .

Increasing demands on students' times, financial problems due to the times and the fact that so many boys are leaving college to join the Army and Navy, are the reasons given by the Pudding prexy, Dave Hadden, for the cancellation.

The decision will bring disappointment to Boston's debs and post-debs, who always weave a whirl of social festivities around the Pudding presentations . . . and both Smith and Vassar girls were to have had the fun of entertaining the boys and seeing the show on its prospective tour of Eastern cities . . .

It was a last minute decision by Dave and his associates, for plans had progressed to the point where rehearsals were to begin next week . . . An excellent book was written by Coles Phinizy, Bob Benchley, Jr., and Arthur Viner, officers of the Harvard Lampoon . . . Entitled "Hey, Mr. Hays," the production was concerned with the complications and problems of three Hollywood press agents and their actress client . . . An equally promising musical score had been written by Bob Coleman, vice-president of the Pudding . . .

So—instead of being fitted for silken gowns, glossy blonde wigs and satin slippers, for their roles as chorines and leading ladies in the Pudding's 96th production, many of the boys will be measured for khaki and blue and their girl friends will be cheated out of one of the most fun-provoking events of the year . . .

BOSTONIANS who attend the Foreign Policy Association's monthly luncheon tomorrow at the Copley-Plaza will get a first hand picture of conditions in unoccupied France from the speech of Varian Fry who has just returned from spending a year in France as European director of the Emergency Rescue Committee . . .

The second speaker will be Louis Cons, professor of French literature at Harvard . . . Mr. Cons is a native of Lyons, France, and has had a wide experience as professor in various American colleges, preceded by a term as tutor to the Kaiser's children before the last war . . .

A. Barr Comstock will preside at the luncheon meeting and among head table guests will be Edward K. Rand, Miss Susanne Chalufour, teacher of French at Milton Academy; Edith Bangs, Beatrice S. Woodward, president of the College Club; C. Adrian Rubel, associate of the Fogg Art Museum; Arthur Santry, who will represent the legal profession, and Howard C. Rice, Jr.

C. CAMPBELL PATTERSON, skipper of The Country Club's curling team, and his teammates have just returned from Lac Beauport, Quebec, where they won the International Quebec Curlers' Bonspiel . . . They have hung the shiny championship shield at the club and are proudly regaling their friends with tales of the wonderful hospitality accorded them during their stay in the historic city . . .

Members of the team, all of whom were honored at a banquet at the Chateau Frontenac, include Robert H. Stevenson, Henry S. Grew, brother of the former American ambassador to Japan, and George H. Vose.

26 Attendants At Ceremony

A bridal party of 26 youthful friends of the bride and groom will take part in the wedding of Virginia Shrigley of Salem and Lt. H. Spencer Potter of Philadelphia, which takes place at 4:30 p. m. Valentine's Day in Grace Church, Salem.

In addition to Ginny's 12 attendants, whom we have previously announced, the party will include a number of Lt. Potter's contemporaries in the armed forces. Best man, Lt. Frank Itgens, of Philadelphia, is coming on from Fort Bragg, and the ushers will include Capt. Clifton MacLaughlin, Capt. Norman Heminway, Lt. George Grogan, Lt. Leighton Dudley, Ensign Malcolm Bruce, U.S.N.R., and Lt. Willard Grimes, U.S.N.R., all of Portland, Me.

Also Cadet Wilfred Shrigley, Jr., of Salem, Benjamin Tower of Brookline, cousin of the groom; Edward D. Baltzell, Jr., and Frank McGlynn of Philadelphia, Phillips Patterson of Charlottesville, Va.; Howard Wheeler, Jr., of Wrentham, brother-in-law of the bride, and Granville Swope, Jr., of Baltimore.

Following the ceremony, which is to be performed by Rev. Frederick M. Morris, assisted by Maj. Edwin Carter, Coast Artillery chaplain, a reception will be held at the home of the Francis Browns in Washington sq., Salem.

Lieut. Potter and his bride will reside at Cloister rd., Portland. Among the pre-wedding parties will be a bridal dinner given by Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Shrigley, parents of the bride, on the eve of the nuptials. Barbara Phippen is giving a bridesmaids luncheon, and numerous showers have already been given to start Ginny off on her housekeeping career.

ROMANTIC SCOTLAND TO BE LECTURE TOPIC

Prof. Frank W. C. Hersey will be guest speaker at the final of this season's Morning of Diversions, to be held at the Hotel Somerset next Wednesday at 11. By means of beautiful color films, Mr. Hersey will conduct his audience on a visual tour of romantic Scotland.

Hostesses for the morning coffee will include Mrs. Charles Allen Porter, Mrs. Arthur Pope, Mrs. S. Bruce Black, Mrs. Rene Evans Paine, Mrs. William Lincoln Wright, Mrs. Albert H. Morse, Mrs. P. Somers Smyth, Mrs. Edward C. Stone, Mrs. Charles F. Wing, Mrs. F. Delano Putnam, Mrs. Walter P. Wright, Mrs. John J. Cornish, Mrs. Robert M. Sayles, Mrs. Francis Flagg and Mrs. John S. Cooke.

Dancing on Ice Tonight

Dancing on ice and figure skating will provide after-dinner entertainment for Skating Club of Boston members at their first Friday evening dinner dance tonight.

Mrs. L. Gordon Glazier of Brookline is chairman, and members of her committee are donating everything from soup to nuts to provide a tasty dinner.

Members planning to attend include Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Jenney, with their daughter, Patricia; Mr. and Mrs. Myron Geller and daughter, Constance; Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Barlow, the Misses Dorothy and Edith Barlow; Mr. and Mrs. Nathaniel T. Listen, World!

DOES GOLDEN RULE REALLY PAY?

By ELSIE ROBINSON

THE GOLDEN RULE—doing unto the other fellow as you'd like to have him do unto you—does it really pay?

Helping—giving—giving your faith and love, labor and hard cash—is it sensible? Or are you just letting yourself in for a lot of grief? You ask yourself—then hate yourself for asking.

How you once despised people who asked questions like that! Cowardly, miserable spirits who wondered if generosity paid. Never—you vowed—would you be like that. Never! Let others go warily if they wished—doling out faith and affection in niggardly bits. YOU were going to live life on the grand scale—"do unto others" as you'd like to have them do unto you, even though you ended in rags.

But now—you wonder. You think of the times you've been imposed upon, the people who've cheated you, actually betrayed you. Your mind travels over this strange, new un-American horde of parasites, beggars . . . thin, ratty creatures without a gallant instinct in them, snatching, snarling.

How about them? Does it pay to love and trust—or even be kind—to such creatures? The cynics and sophisticates say you're a fool if you do. Are they, maybe, right? NO, THEY'RE NOT!

THE GOLDEN RULE DOES pay—always has, always will. Love IS worth while. Faith in your fellow man is NOT a sentimental gesture or childish foolishness. Even if the other fellow takes advantage of your decency—fools or robs you. Even if the world sneers at you, KINDNESS STILL PAYS. LOVE IS STILL WORTH WHILE.

The other fellow may fail you—but love and faith and generosity will never fail you. Always they will enrich and beautify your life, making you stronger and wiser.

Give! For giving is the secret of living. You get out of life what you put into it—and nothing more. But remember there is a rule for giving as there is for everything else. There is a right way that works and a way that doesn't.

Here, in one lovely verse, Macknight Black has caught the truth of—

"Give not with your hands, they might break, lifting mountains.
"Give not with your lips, shaping words like blue swords, or lanterns o fsilver, to fail.
"Give with your heart, like earth, the old giver,
"Not knowing what life shall come out of its wholeness,
"Thundering the white pear branches of Spring from its silent dark!"

"GIVE NOT WITH YOUR HANDS." So easy for a service of love to become a "mountain" of obligation. Then you hand in a check for gratitude as if it were the butcher bill! And nine times out of ten you're gypped—as you should be! For why should you make a commercial transaction out of service that should be a gallant adventure of the spirit?

"GIVE NOT WITH YOUR LIPS"—that's even trickier. Fine things, words—flashing like swords, flaming like lanterns—but thin stuff for a hungry heart or bewildered brain. If you give words you'll get words—dividends of hot air! Mighty unsatisfactory to both giver and getter.

BUT IF YOU GIVE AS THE EARTH GIVES YOU WILL DISCOVER THE FINEST ADVENTURE. THE RICHEST OPPORTUNITY IN OUR HUMAN EXPERIENCE.

The earth does not haggle over its giving nor demand definite returns. The earth surrenders itself to life. Bestows its abundance without contract or condition. And for giving finds reward in—living. Wider, warmer life—blossoms out of blackness—harvest after harrow—that is the earth's dividend. That will be yours if you have the courage to give.

No matter what may SEEM to be your return, no matter how you may SEEM to be tricked and betrayed—if you dare to give YOU WILL LIVE. And if you don't—you won't.

—"GIVE—UNITED WAR FUND"—

20 CHILDREN SAVED IN FIRE BY BOY HERO

Fire officials today lauded 12-year-old Ronald Hudson of Lamartine st., Jamaica Plain, for his calm direction of rescue work which saved 20 children from a burning apartment house after flames and smoke had made escape through doorways impossible.

Not only did the lad point a way across the roofs of two low adjoining buildings whereby several adults were able to flee the flames, but he shouted from his second-story window to two spectators, ordering them to raise a ladder which he spied in the back yard.

Then, aided by Thomas Corbett, 20, who had jumped from his room in the burning building, and Nelson Reynolds, 15, a neighbor, Ronald formed a "human chain" to help lower 20 small children down the ladder to safety.

Firemen on arrival found all the little ones safely removed, thanks to young Hudson. So serious had been the danger of occupants being trapped in the building that two alarms were sounded, but firemen confined the flames to the first floor and basement.

Cause of the fire, which broke out in the cellar and was discovered by Cornelius McLaughlin, a tenant, when he went downstairs for oil, was undetermined. Dist. Chief Thomas Ward set the damage at $2500.

'Plenty of Room' For Recruits

Nearly two months after the declaration of war, Army recruiting continues at a fast pace in New England, Lieut.-Col. John L. Rice, First Corps Area recruiting director, announced today.

He said there still was "plenty of room" for volunteers in the infantry, cavalry, field artillery, armored forces, engineers, signal corps, quartermaster department, medical corps, ordnance, chemical warfare and parachute troops.

Baby Girl Dies As Boy Is Born

Tragedy struck today in the family of Mrs. Joseph Simcik of 10 Pearson ave., Somerville, while she lay in Central hospital, Somerville, after birth of a sturdy son. Her 17-months-old daughter, Evelyn Marie, suffocated while asleep.

Mrs. Simcik, unaware of the accident, happily prepared to leave the hospital and relatives were reluctant to inform her until her recovery is further advanced.

Evelyn Marie was staying at the home of her grandmother, Mrs. Wilhelmina Siebert, 357 Highland ave., Somerville, while the mother was in the hospital.

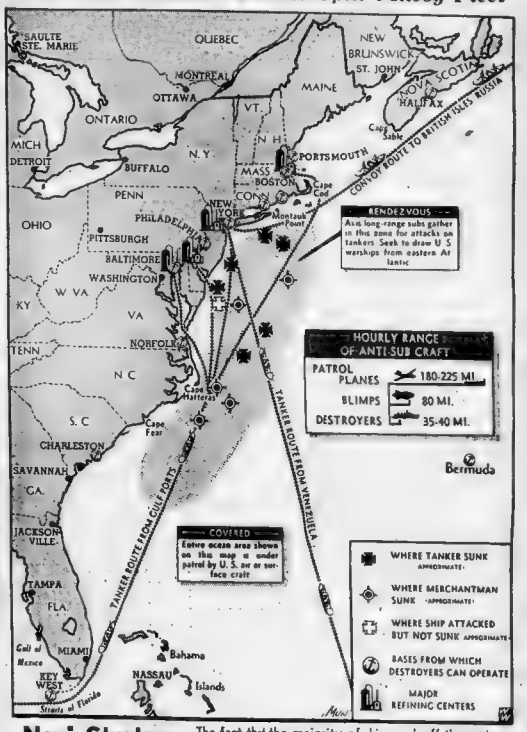
Nazi Blitz on Tankers Move to Split Convoy Fleet



Nazi Strategy—The fact that the majority of ships sunk off the eastern U. Losses on the convoy route have shown a marked drop since U-boats invaded far-western Atlantic waters.

Next Sunday's ADVERTISER

OUR DAILY CITATION: To Elisabeth M. Herlihy, chairman of the State Planning Board, who is endeavoring to solve the problem of organizing enough means of transportation to replace private cars as they are forced off the road. This work, an important contribution to our war effort, embraces the problem of creating many new lines of emergency bus service.

THE NATION is poking fun at Congress for voting itself a pension, but there is a barb in the jest.

In ancient times, the jester in the court was more often feared for his ridicule than enjoyed for his humor.

And there is more than a little of that in the present national interest in the so-called "Bundles For Congress" escapade.

The idea is credited to an organization in Spokane, Wash., called "The Athletic Round Table," which proposed in a spirt of levity that citizens gather straw hats, mothballs, rags, old tires —"anything that's light and cheap—" as contributions to "needy" Congressmen.

Everybody is laughing but the Congressmen.

But even the people are laughing through their teeth.

The spectacle of a national law-making body putting its own comfort and security ahead of national interest is not funny.

The unavoidable expenditures which Congress must authorize, and for which it must appropriate, are vast but endurable.

The additional but unnecessary expenditures which Congress also authorizes, and for which it appropriates, are also vast but less endurable.

And in the latter category, unquestionably, the impending "Pensions For Congressmen" are placed by public interpretation.

THE MEMBERS OF CONGRESS are adequately and even generously paid for their services.

In addition to their fixed salaries, they have liberal allowances for office staffs—in which many of them contrive to establish relatives and friends in remunerative positions through the convenient practice of nepotism.

They have further liberal allowances for travel, frequently available and availed of without the inconvenience of actual travel.

For the comparatively few Congressmen who remain in this highly lucrative service over a long and uninterrupted period of years, the compensation is satisfying and sufficient—judging from the comparatively few who voluntarily relinquish it.

For the larger number who are forcibly retired by their constituents after one or a few terms, the necessity of course appears to seek a career and livelihood in other fields.

But the service in Congress was not intended by the founders of the American system of government to be a profession or a permanent career.

EVERY MEMBER is purposely and deliberately made subject to re-election at short intervals, precisely to prevent his becoming fixed in his job and insulated against removal by public will.

Naturally, there is a certain amount of personal risk involved in acceptance of congressional office—risk of defeat at the polls and return to private life.

The "Pensions For Congressmen" scheme is obviously intended to offset this risk.

If it is installed, it will be possible for a Congressman to live comfortably on the salary of the office as long as he holds it, and almost as comfortably the rest of his life as a public pensioner.

The "Bundles For Congressmen" campaign indicates what the American people think of this idea.

The Congress should not be too contemptuous of what the people think about it. It should consider carefully the serious and significant public attitude behind the apparent humor and ridicule, and perhaps RECONSIDER an action which may retire many Congressmen to the pension rolls more quickly than they desire.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT'S remark that "parasites" in Washington should get out to make room for the ever-increasing number of war-workers is good as far as it goes.

But it does not go far enough.

The suggestion that parasites should move out of the National Capital should be applicable also to the government payrolls from San Diego to Bangor and from Walla Walla to Key West.

The civil payrolls today are literally pediculous with political "soft-snappers."

We, of course, refer to non-defense and non-war workers.

Among the nests of "parasites," for instance, that are needling the body politic are those called "departmental publicity agents."

The budget bureau recently gave out these figures concerning these champion treasury borers:

There are ONE HUNDRED AND FIFTY-THREE agencies engaged in getting up these "reports"—most of which go into the wastebaskets of citizens and newspaper editors.

These agencies employ 2895 persons on full time and 31,613 on part time.

These "departmental publicity" staffs have absolutely nothing to say or to reveal that is of vital interest to the country.

They occupy housing room that might be used for legitimate defense workers.

We have now nearly two million persons on the federal civilian payrolls.

How many of these are purely political parasites?

It would be well for Congress (if it can find its spine) to find out.

The flying rumors gathered as they rolled,
Scarce any tale was sooner heard than told;
And all who told it added something new,
And all who heard it made some enlargements too

—POPE.

ABOVE is a perfect description of the war rumor spreading situation in some sections. This harmful practice should be discouraged. In an effort to stop this idle chatter some people wear buttons on which is printed: "How do you know?" That's a good idea but the wording should be stronger. How about buttons bearing a picture of a silly looking parrot and the words "A parrot will repeat anything told him but he won't know what he is talking about!" All right, what's your idea?

WHEN STOPPED in traffic with your engine running how much gas do you figure is used? Experts say the amount is one ounce of gasoline a minute. Six pounds of gasoline equals a gallon. Speaking of gasoline consumption a Chicagoan says he has just completed a 5200-mile trip at a cost of $52 for gasoline. And that excepting in passing through towns he drove at a rate of 65 to 75 miles per hour the entire trip.

ALMOST CONFIDENTIAL: Among his souvenirs a subscriber says he found a cigarette lighter marked "Made in Japan." It resembles the ordinary cigarette lighter but when an unsuspecting user presses the catch a snake springs out . . . "As to the quaint name champion of the country," writes a Pittsburgher, "we have a girl in our town whose name is Dreama Bottoms" . . . Chinese diplomat Dr. Wellington Koo recently said: "In 1938 the Chinese air force was over Tokyo. As we are a civilized people our airmen dropped only leaflets then. But times have changed. The Chinese air force will soon be over Tokyo again. And this time it will not be leaflets that are dropped."

DIVORCES: From San Francisco: "Life can be very difficult for a divorcee as I and several of my friends are finding out. All divorcees are suspected of being designing and are looked upon as pirates on the seas of love. Divorcees receive innumerable propositions but few proposals of marriage. My friends and I are, according to competent judges, not so bad looking. But at times we feel we will never see a husband's smile (or scowl) at breakfast again. Can you give us any advice as to how we may have another chance to make good at double blessedness?" Naturally we are touched and flattered by this communication and request. We have no advice available right now but have instructed our Horses & Women Dept. to start a special research file marked: "Advice for divorcees, poor kids." You may be hearing from us.

Dislikes Taste of a Movie Kiss

Joseph Dana Roberts, U. S. Army. In addition to being in the Army, Joe is a Washington State Senator. He is a good-looking bachelor and is rated catch No. 8 in Seattle. In view of the fact many of our feminine subscribers have indicated they are anxiously looking for high-grade husbands we will from time to time mention the names of some of the country's outstanding bachelors.

PLEASE NOTE: "So Ann Sothern says a movie kiss, due to make-up used, tastes like lard," writes a young woman of Boston. "Well, whether it tasted like lard or not I believe I would sincerely enjoy being kissed by Robert Taylor" . . . "As to a man being a help around the house I strongly advise against it," writes a New Yorker. "I helped my wife with the meals. I cooked the breakfast and served it to her in bed. I did washing, ironing, plumbing, electrical repairing, painting and wallpapering in addition to holding down a steady job. So what. It completely spoiled my wife. She left me flat."

SIDELIGHTS: Mikado, Mich. is to change its name to MacArthur in honor of Gen. Douglas MacArthur. Tokyo, N. D. should change its name to Kelly in honor of Capt. Colin Kelly . . . At the famous Anhalt railroad station in Berlin, some wives, mothers and sweethearts of soldiers staged a sit-down strike to show how they felt about the sending of more German troops to the Russian front. They sat on the railroad tracks in front of the troop trains until forcibly removed. Until recently the German women have been Hitler's most ardent supporters. If they turn on Der Fuehrer in great numbers he is through.

ADDED DETAILS: Loopholes in federal tax laws are causing the United States to lose a billion a year in revenues, says Secretary Morgenthau. He should know. What interests me is were these loopholes in the laws the result of carelessness or were they intentional? In any event, we know the majority of Senators and Congressmen are lawyers. They should know a loophole in a law when they see one . . . Ever hear the Peters Sisters sing "Three Little Maids from School Are We?" If not, you have missed something. The Peters girls are nearly a ton of harmony; the thinnest one weighs 225 pounds. Other two each weigh over 300 pounds. They are the plumpest entertainers since that sister team known as "The Dancing Heifer and the Galloping Cow" entertained at Pacific Coast night clubs.

Broadway's Voice

ODD HAPPENINGS OF MANHATTAN

By Dorothy Kilgallen

NEW YORK, Feb. 6—Broadway is the happy hunting ground of the odd ending—the place where the unexpected can be expected to happen, because it usually does. On Truth-Is-Stranger-Than-Fiction Street, everyday doings that don't attract a single raised eyebrow often contain plot nuances so flagrantly foreign from any set formula that no self-respecting script writer would use them, even in a dream sequence.

In Manhattan, life is like a $4.40 musical—there's always a "sock" finale. Because this is a town that fairly ripples with Ripleyisms.

EDDIE CANTOR

OF COURSE you've seen movies and read books about temperamental musicians — the blue moods, their quicksilver eccentricities. So you will not be jolted too harshly when you harken to the tale of Lou Martin of Broadway.

Lou Martin has directed the orchestra at Leon and Eddie's for more than seven years, which made him a lucky musician, because the permanence of his chore cut out the jazzman's bugaboo of the one-night stand and made it possible for him and his wife to live an almost average married life. They lived in a little brick house in the country, just 50 minutes from Swing Street. They had a car, a small boat and a garden. So far, great.

But Lou's batoneering made his hours a little different from the average commuter's. He'd get home at about five every morning. The house would be dark and quiet. Mrs. Martin would be fast asleep. So Martin would brood and fume and fume and brood because he was lonely and had no one to talk to.

One night Martin didn't show up for his work. Lou was in Reno. He had left in a huff to divorce his wife, on the complaint that he wasn't being given companionship.

Well, he waited in Reno for the usual six weeks and the waiting cooled him off and calmed him down. He felt foolish and a little ashamed of himself.

And so Mrs. Lou Martin was divorced by Mr. Lou Martin, and Broadway cluck-clucked and said too bad, another nice marriage gone, and Lou got back into town and went back to work.

Then what did he do? Well, first he sent a big box of flowers to his ex-wife. Then he got married again.

To whom, do you ask? Why, to Mrs. Lou Martin, of course. They were remarried Tuesday, and they're spending their honeymoon in the little brick house just 50 minutes from Broadway. The bridegroom commutes from Swing Street.

This one is the plot about the two boyhood pals. One becomes a celebrity and the other one a nonentity. That's logical, really, and that's the way it is in the movies.

There were two kids who were pals just like that in New York quite a few years ago. They were both poor little kids. And do you know what happened to them? One became a great star named Eddie Cantor. The other became a great star, too. His name was Georgie Jessel. Now, after 40 years, they're both still big names. Cantor is starring in "Banjo Eyes." Jessel is starring in "High Kickers." And they're still good friends, too.

But it never happens that way in the movies.

THE STORY about the prize fighter who became a champion, wouldn't pay any attention to his trainers or managers and wound up losing his title is always good for a tug at the heartstrings.

There was a fighter right here in New York once who refused to take himself or his training seriously. And just like the mug in the movie he became champion. And the champ wound up losing his title.

The other night, because muscle lads are a sentimental lot and like to chin about the time they fought Lop-Ear Joe McGludder, our hero dropped into Jack Dempsey's Broadway steak salon for a chat.

He and the Manassa Mauler sat together, but the crowd wouldn't let them. They mobbed them both for autographs.

Because the champion who lost his title and loved to clown around is making more money now than he made in the ring. He's making it doing what he loves to do—acting silly. His name is Maxie Rosenbloom, and he is one of Hollywood's favorite comedians.

Touching ending, isn't it?

It's getting so you don't know which can dream up bigger whoppers—the literary set, or life.

BOSTON after DARK

By GEORGE HOLLAND

JUDITH (ELLIOTT) ALLEN, THE LOVELY Belmont girl who successively was Mrs. Gus Sonnenberg and Mrs. Jack Doyle, is correcting proofs of her first novel, "My Eyes Still Shine" . . . It's a good title . . . Beautiful as she was, the most striking feature of Judith's appearance was her huge gray-blue eyes . . . When she and Jack Doyle were playing the Keith Boston in 1936, Warner Brothers' story chief, Jake Wilk, tried to get Judith's "own story" for transcription to a picture . . . Judith wasn't too enthusiastic at the time, and critics of the Belmont girl—some of whom have been very harsh—may be interested in her reason for withholding co-operation . . . She said that the story might embarrass Mr. Sonnenberg . . . (Gus wasn't doing so well at the time) . . . If the literary maxim that a first novel is autobiographical holds true in Judith's case, "My Eyes Still Shine" should be movie material.

THAT FABULOUS CHARACTER from the Maine deep, Chief Needahbeh, is in town again for tomorrow night's opening of the New England Sportsmen's and Boat Show at Mechanics Building . . . (Incidentally, has the Sportsmen's Show an understanding with the weatherman that there'll always be snow in Boston when it arrives?) . . . Chief Needahbeh is a Penobscot Indian . . . He has sung in grand opera, as a member of the Chicago company . . . As a master-of-ceremonies the good chief showed his worth last season . . . Those who hear his eerie call for attention as he begins to make his introductions will be listening to an almost perfect imitation of the loon's cry to his mate . . . Woodsmen say that when this call punctuates the stillness of the lake region of the North country, the effect is thrilling . . . Chief Needahbeh once played football for Carlisle, is one of the best fly casters in the world, can shoot an arrow with the best archers and his knowledge of the lore of the woods and lakes is phenomenal.

A SEASON OR TWO of inactivity since she was the star ballerina of George White's Scandals hasn't taken the twinkle from lovely Evalyn Martin's toes . . . The pert little red-head from Brooklyn is featured at the Cocoanut Grove . . . Always a pet of the denizens of Jacobs Beach and Tin Pan Alley, Miss Martin is renewing Boston friendships of long standing . . . Her routines are as modern as tomorrow.

EVALYN MARTIN

Featured at the Cocoanut Grove

AS WE MENTIONED here yesterday, John Boles' coming to The Mayfair brought out clusters of nightclub-goers you seldom see . . . Paul the Mayfair's maitre d', is authority for the news that reservations are coming in so furiously fast that—weather permitting—all records for the Broadway nightclub seem destined to be shattered . . . Parties of eight or a dozen unescorted girls were very plentiful, but the movie actor is drawing scores of be-furred ladies and men in dinner coats, or white tie . . . Mr. Boles is certainly prodigal with his encores . . . He sings "Waiting for K-K-Katy at the Garden Gate" from his best picture, "Back Street" . . . "White Cliffs of Dover" and "The Sunshine of Your Smile" are two of his best numbers . . . But the biggest surprise in John's repertory was the low-down rhythm number, "Chattanooga Choo-choo" . . . The movie star precedes this number with an explanation . . . "It's a bit out of my line, but I'm going to try to sing it for you."

WE SHOULD HAVE RELAYED (while talking about Miss Martin) the story Georgie Raft told her last week when he hopped to New York from Hollywood to broadcast "Brother Orchid" . . . Evalyn and Raft are close friends, and travel about New York in the same circle . . . George's story tells about the Army officer on leave who was met at the airport by his wife and children . . . He kissed the family quickly, and walked over to a flock of pigeons nearby and asked: "Any messages?"

UNKNOWN ACTRESS GETS STAR ROLE

Sheila Ryan

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 6—Lucky Jennifer Jones, 22-year-old unknown! She's been discovered by David O. Selznick and will have the coveted role of Nora in "The Keys of the Kingdom." Not only is she lucky but so are all the other talented American girls, for it means that the door to the movies is not closed to girls with ability. Jennifer has never been on the New York stage. She's never made a movie, but she has played with stock companies who put on their shows under canvas in Oklahoma and other places in the South. David said today he believes Jennifer will have the same chance as Vivien Leigh had in "Gone With the Wind." Joan Fontaine in "Rebecca" and Ingrid Bergman in Selznick productions. Interesting the way David chose her. He had some letters and photographs of her and he had a test made. So you see, girls and boys, we're really going back to the good old days when unknowns had a chance.

For some time Miss "Janie With the Bright Red Hair" (as Greg calls her) has had her eye on a movie career. She was willing to admit she was no Shirley Temple on account of she's a "carrot top" instead of a doll face. Well, to make a long story short, Miss Janie decided she wanted to go with her Pa when he headed for Arizona with "The Lady in a Jam" company. And once there she started showing "talent" so profusely that Greg threw up his hands and handed her the role of the wise-cracking brat in his picture starring Irene Dunne.

Flying at Night Made Safer by Invention

By G. E. LAL
International News Service Science Editor

NEW YORK, Feb. 6 (INS)—A new method for enabling night fliers on land or sea to find their bearings without mistake was revealed at the Institute of Radio Engineers here today.

Henry G. Busignies, distinguished radio engineer, inventor and official of the International Radio & Telephone Corp. here, has developed the new method, which is related to flying by the aid of radio-beam signals.

The practical importance of the new development in the present emergency was thus stated by Engineer Busignies:

SHOWS COMPASS CHANGE

"The new method aims at enabling pilots to determine the accuracy of night bearings, obtained by means of a radio compass.

"The compass operates on wave lengths between 200 and 2000 meters, corresponding to 150 to 1500 kilocycles.

"It shows how the radio compass is affected when the airplane, flying at night, passes through the combination of electro-magnetic fields due to the reflection of radio waves from the "E" layer of the upper atmosphere and from a mountain side.

"Consideration has been given to radio waves of three kinds: The direct wave, the sky wave, reflected from the ground.

"Error at night is considered, from all these circumstances, on the sky wave reflected from the ground.

Radio signals guide the airplane pilot, as is generally known, but these signals impinge upon the radio-compass of the plane not only directly, but also as reflected from the sky and the ground.

In the upper regions of the atmosphere, about 60 miles and more above sea level, there is the so-called "radio ceiling," "E" layer, consisting of myriads of electrified atoms and molecules of the air. This layer reflects the radio signals coming from below, just as a mirror reflects rays of light.

Mebbe Navy Men Wanted Names of Some Pretty Girls!

DENVER, Feb. 6 (INS)—Letters from "pretty girls all over the Rocky Mountain West" poured into the Navy recruiting office today and all because of the omission of a single word from a recruiting office press release, said Cmdr. J. C. Thom, recruiting officer.

The word "male" was omitted in the wording of an announcement that qualified stenographers might apply to serve as yeomen in the Navy.

Billion and Half U. S. Securities Offered

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6 (INS)—The Treasury announced today it would sell $1,500,000,000 of government securities Friday, Feb. 13, to obtain funds for war spending.

The new issue, coupled with the current rate of spending, will boost the national debt to $62,000,000,000 or within $3,000,000,000 of the statutory debt limit.

Hub Blackout Date Pondered

Among members of Mayor Tobin's defense committee the major topic of discussion today was which night, in a week or so will be best suited for Boston's blackout test.

Thus far, the consensus seems to be that Monday, Feb. 16, will provide an average weekday night for a fair trial, although selective service registrations will be going on throughout the city at that time.

Sunday apparently is ruled out because too few people are on the streets; Saturday won't do because of the exactly opposite reason. Ash Wednesday, Feb. 18, will find thousands of persons attending church, while hockey fans are against a Tuesday night blackout.

Whatever night is chosen will be advertised well in advance, in view of the fact that blackout violations —even the striking of a match or lighting a cigarette—will be prosecuted by police and defense officials.

HEAVY EATERS MUST PONY UP AT HARVARD

Harvard students will either "pony up" or give up "seconds" and "thirds" at the dining table, Dining Hall Supt. Roy L. Westcott said today, as the school's war retrenchment program reached the food conservation stage.

Extra portions of roast beef, dessert and other items will cost the trencherman an additional charge, Westcott said, because the low board rate of $8.50 for 21 meals is not sufficient to meet the cost of satisfying the Harvards' sweet teeth.

He hinted darkly of a 30 per cent cut in sugar allowed with each meal in the next few weeks, but Aldrich Durant, university business manager, said there was no need of worrying about that.

Asked if Harvard had stored quantities of sugar to meet the expected shortage, Durant replied:

"We don't hoard at Harvard."

Last year the burly Harvards sloshed down 30,000 gallons of ice cream, most of which was colorfully adorned with cherries, fresh strawberries and, occasionally, fudge sauce.

The weekly consumption of staples by the 4500 eaters runs to seven tons of potatoes, a ton each of beef and lamb, and 48 crates of mushrooms.

GETTING HIS BEARINGS

FAYETTEVILLE, N. C., Feb. 6 — The driver on the Goldsboro-bound bus seemed a little relieved when Mrs. H. O. Pipkin, the lone passenger, got aboard.

"Lady," he asked, "do you know the way to Goldsboro?"

He got an affirmative reply and said:

"Well, I wish you'd show me the way there."

She did, and when the bus got to Goldsboro the driver had another request:

"Now will you show me where the bus station is?"

HEE-HAW!

FOLKSTON, Ga., Feb. 6 (AP)—A Charlton County resident, after buying a government auto tax stamp, asked Postmaster V. J. Pickren what he should do with it. Told to place it on his windshield, he said he had none.

"Well, stick it in a conspicuous place," Pickren advised.

The buyer said he guessed he'd have to get a board and stick it on that.

"What kind of a car do you have, anyway?" asked the postmaster.

"I ain't got no car," was the reply. "All I got is a mule."

ALL-OUT AID

WENATCHEE, Wash., Feb. 6 (AP) — Carl Graham went the whole way in his war effort. He invested his $1500 savings in defense bonds and then enlisted in the Navy.

ALL CLEAR NOT CLEAR

ALTON, Ill., Feb. 6 (AP)—The first and second alerts were sounded for the city's first blackout test; the city grew blacker and blacker as even the huge Mississippi river locks were darkened.

Then a steamboat came whistling around the bend and many residents, mistaking the signal, switched on their lights again—one minute before the all-clear was given.

NEVER TOO OLD

MOUNTAIN LAKE, Minn., Feb. 6 (AP)—L. I. Bargen, 85, has ordered a bicycle for future transportation.

"Shucks," he said, "I was brought up on one." He recalled an old ordinance prohibiting bicycles from sidewalks, but especially exempting him, since he was the postmaster then.

Loew's 'Chocolate Soldier' Abounds in Musical Treats

Eddy-Stevens Team in Triumph

"THE CHOCOLATE SOLDIER," Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's new version of the popular comic opera with Nelson Eddy and the Met Opera's Rise Stevens. Screen play by Leonard Lee and Keith Winter based on Ferenc Molnar's play, "The Guardsman." Directed by Roy Del Ruth. At Loew's twin theaters.

By PEGGY DOYLE

The cinematic divorcement of Nelson Eddy and Jeanette MacDonald need not cause you any further qualms . . . once you have heard the new voice blending on the sound track with Eddy's.

The golden mezzo-soprano is the major item of Metro's new version of "The Chocolate Soldier," and belongs to the Metropolitan Opera's most attractive Rise (pronounced Ree-zuh) Stevens and is currently to be heard at Loew's State and Orpheum theaters.

Miss Stevens sings "My Hero," song-hit of the original stage production, in a way to re-establish it in today's song-hit parade. She and Eddy also sing it together, as well as "Sympathy," "Evening Star" from "Tannhauser," "Chocolate Soldier" and other numbers from the Straus score so as to make them welcome as the newest of popular numbers.

The present edition of "Chocolate Soldier" is based on Molnar's play, "The Guardsman," and not on George Bernard Shaw's play, "Arms and the Man," which was originally used as the basis of the musical comedy for which Oscar Straus wrote the music. The title of the Straus operetta is used on the picture because the original score provides the accompaniment to the Molnar story.

Metro owned the Straus music. RKO Radio owned the libretto of "Chocolate Soldier," which was adapted from "Arms and the Man," through Gabriel Pascal's acquisition of the Shaw play rights. They couldn't, or wouldn't, do business with each other. And, by the way, the forthcoming RKO production of the Shaw book will have an entirely new score now being composed by Straus.

All of which has not handicapped Metro's hybrid offering as bouncing, saucy, delightful "escape" entertainment.

To acquaint you with the present plot, Eddy plays a selfish and pathologically jealous musical comedy star who fears his co-starring wife, Rise Stevens, no longer loves him. To test her devotion, he masquerades as a Russian opera singer and pays her violent court. His flirtatious, capricious wife catches on quick, pretends she doesn't and invents numerous lovers to keep her spouse in constant suspense.

"Tarzan's Secret Treasure," with Johnny Weissmuller and Maureen O'Sullivan, is in the next-to-the-last of the Tarzan jungle series, share the billing with the Eddy-Stevens co-starrer.

JOAN LESLIE on the Bijou screen in "Sergeant York."

Custer Fight Classic On Bowdoin's Screen

Custer's last stand is vividly recreated in "They Died With Their Boots On," Errol Flynn's newest adventure thriller, which makes rather free with the life of the gallant general. With "Unexpected Uncle," teaming Charles Coburn and youthful Anne Shirley, it is to be seen on Bowdoin screen through tonight.

'LOUISIANA PURCHASE,' MET'S SCREEN HIT, HAS EVERYTHING---IT'S TOPS

Bob Hope, Zorina Lead Stars

"LOUISIANA PURCHASE," Paramount's technicolor film version of the Morris Ryskind-B. G. DeSylva Broadway musical with Bob Hope, Zorina, Victor Moore and Irene Bordoni. Directed by Irving Cummings from script by Jerome Chodorov and Joseph Fields. At the Met.

By PEGGY DOYLE

With all but two of the local Rialto's theaters dimmed, the Metropolitan screen would seem to have a bonanza in its new tenant, "Louisiana Purchase," Paramount's gorgeously technicolored film version of Buddy De Sylva's Broadway musical.

For here is a New York smash-hit of a couple of years ago transferred to celluloid with incredible success . . . thanks largely to the stage and screen-wise De Sylva who wrote and produced the original "legit" production. He guided the film version during its Hollywood reincarnation and it is causing such a jingle at the country's box offices as to make Producer De Sylva's ears cerise-colored.

So if you observe a Tremont st. gold rush in the direction of the Met don't say we didn't warn you.

For brief escape from everything that's troubling you and you and you catch "Louisiana Purchase," which has everything the stage production had plus Bob Hope and "leg art," boys, the like of which even a tabloid picture editor's collection can't compare.

You'll excuse this rapturous reviewing, but a slick, Broadwise musical comedy with Hope and Moore and gams galore all for the price of three thin dimes . . . until 1 o'clock . . . is a bargain you shouldn't miss.

Victor Moore, our pet pudge any old time, is an even funnier incorruptible Senator Loganberry than he appeared across the footlights. Zorina is as lithe and lovely as ever, and Irene Bordoni, that inescapably delightful veteran of parlez-Francais stage sirens, is at her best.

Of course Bob Hope, giving your eyebrows a continuous workout, romps away with the picture, except when the Louisiana Lovelies, the prettiest girls you'll ever see, are glorifying the screen.

Capsuled to you, the story is an expertly funny takeoff on politics as practiced in Louisiana during the late Huey Long's fabulous reign. Hope plays with electric charm a young scapegoat of the political coterie whose shady deals are about to be investigated by the hot-water bibbling Sen. Loganberry.

Irving Cummings keeps the fun boiling with his fleet direction.

Film Reveals War Strategy in Pacific

"Far East Command," latest March of Time release showing how the United States armed forces will hit back at Japan and liberate their besieged comrades in the island in the Pacific, is now unreeling on Keith Memorial screen. "Ball of Fire," now in its sixth week, and "Obliging Young Lady" are the film features.

From data compiled by years of research, the timely Far East newsreel reveals the Japs' territorial weak-spots. Shown, too, are the Anzacs' deva 'ating rout of the invaders and the protective measures taken to defend Australia.

Globe Offers Gala Vaudeville Program

The Globe regular Sunday 1-to-11 p. m. vaudeville program schedules no less than six featured acts including Roger Williams and company, mimics; Bob and Betty Cedar, stilt experts; Rio and Rita, offering musical novelties; Dot Deering, acrobat; Jack Herbert and company, song-and-talk specialty, and Charles Willis, sepian baritone. Diane Rowland and Crystal Ames are announced as the co-stars of the Globe's Sunday midnight burlesque show.

PROVOCATIVE Tahitian . . . Gene Tierney charms Tyrone Power in "Son of Fury," now topping the Paramount and Fenway screen bills.

'Sergeant York' Bijou's Feature

"Sergeant York," one of the screen's truly great pictures with Gary Cooper in the Academy Award winning title role, tops the Bijou's screen bill.

PHYSICIAN REFUTES GIRL IN WILL FIGHT

Pretty 16-year-old Gretchen Van Zandt Merrill's contention that her grandfather was of unsound mind when he willed the bulk of his $1,000,000 estate to a preparatory school instead of to her was denied today by the old gentleman's former physician.

Testifying in Dedham Probate Court, where young Gretchen, Brookline figure skater, seeks to break the will of the late Frank A. Merrill, Dr. William W. Bolster of Lewiston, Me., said Merrill seemed all right to him when the will was drawn in June, 1926.

Gretchen is trying to prove that Grandfather Merrill was not only of unsound mind when the document was drawn, but that undue influence was exerted on him by her father, the late Abner Merrill, whom her mother divorced in November, 1926. The will was drawn in June, 1926.

According to Dr. Bolster, who said the elder Merrill had been his patient from 1918 to 1926, Merrill vacationed at the Poland Spring House in Maine during the summer of 1926 and there was nothing to indicate his mind was affected.

The wealthy stockbroker even indulged in a little putting on the green, Dr. Bolster said.

In the years from 1926 to 1928, the witness said he even consulted Merrill on investments. Bolster did not say as to whether the advice was good or bad, but he did say that the disease with which Merrill was afflicted advanced rapidly after the market crash of 1929.

Germans Face Potato Ration

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6 (AP)—The Agriculture Department said today Germany faced a possible rationing of potatoes for the first time since war started. Potatoes have been one of the principal items in the Reich's wartime diet.

Information from abroad was said to indicate early frosts last fall cut the potato crop of Greater Germany about 200,000,000 bushels below the previous year's 2,380,000,000 bushels.

Shortages have developed in several large German cities, the department said.

Farmers may be forced to curtail feeding of potatoes to hogs. Because of short supplies of other types of livestock feed, a curtailment in the use of potatoes for feed would probably necessitate a reduction in hogs.

risoner's Loud Voice Costs Him Jail Term

Thomas Graham, 30, of Bangor, Me., had reason today to regret that his voice has such good carrying qualities.

In an anteroom outside Boston Municipal Court awaiting arrival of Roxbury police for questioning on a non-support charge, he expressed his opinion of the judge, who had just granted him a continuance on a drunkenness charge. Judge Carr overheard and sentenced Graham 10 days for contempt of court.

Laud Women as Efficient

CHICAGO, Feb. 6 (AP)—Hands that used to specialize in cradle-rocking have moved efficiently to the war production-line, and have earned larger and more important place there, Miss Mary Anderson, director of the Women's Bureau, U. S. Department of Labor since 1919, said today.

In an address before the American Management Ass'n, Miss Anderson said surveys had shown women to be fitted uniquely for many exacting industrial tasks, and they should not be restricted to the least-skilled jobs.

Asserting "one-fourth to one-third of the aircraft assembly jobs can be done by women," she chided the aircraft industry for not giving greater recognition to women workers.

One aircraft manufacturing center has offered supplementary training courses to women, she said. By contrast, she reported, 40 per cent of the workers on small arms ammunition and 96 per cent in the time-fuse department of one government arsenal are women.

"Women can do certain notably skilled work after training," said Miss Anderson. "They have the ability to work to precise tolerances, and can detect variations of ten-thousandths of an inch. Women can make careful adjustments at high speed with accuracy."

Mrs. Lambert Rites Monday

Funeral services for Mrs. John T. Lambert of Beacon st., Brookline, who suffered burns in a fire in her apartment a week ago, which proved fatal, will be held at St. Aiden's Church, Brookline, Monday at 10 a. m. with a solemn high mass of requiem. Burial will be in St. Mary's Cemetery, Portsmouth, N. H. Prominent clubwoman and widow of the former associate publisher of the Boston Evening American, Mrs. Lambert died Thursday at Peter Bent Brigham Hospital.

Her husband was vice-president of the Eastern Racing Ass'n when he died suddenly at the Woodland Golf Club, Auburndale, in September, 1939.

NEW PANAMA ROAD JOINS TWO OCEANS

By CHANDLER DIEHL

BALBOA, Canal Zone, Feb. 6 (AP)—A new Panama Canal safeguard has been established in a 48-mile transisthmian highway, over which Army machines can travel ocean-to-ocean in two hours.

At places the route is only a one-way graded trail hacked through dense tropical jungle, but Army trucks traversed it for the first time this week, demonstrating its availability in any emergency involving the vital canal and closely paralleling railway.

The highway adds a third and well-separated route to the canal and railway which hitherto were the only avenues of heavy transport across the Isthmus of Panama.

Begun in December, 1940, the highway assumed enormous military significance after the United States and Panama entered the war.

Canal defense authorities obtained permission of the United States public roads administration to cleave a trail across seven miles of jungle-covered hogback hills and deep-ravines—last portion of a right-of-way originally planned for commercial traffic.

Now it becomes the job of the public roads administration, during Panama's present "dry season," to lay a two-way 50-mile-an-hour concrete highway before arrival of the "rainy season" that would speedily reduce this strategic highway to the jungle from which it was so speedily reclaimed.

Granted a full quota of dry weather, it is predicted the job will be done in two months.

2 INDICTED IN BRIDGEWATER SLAYING

PLYMOUTH, Feb. 6—Aftermath of the slaying of the three unarmed guards at Bridgewater state farm on New Year's Day, two inmates of the defective delinquent ward were under indictment of the Plymouth County grand jury today, charged with murder.

The prisoners indicted were Donald Millard, 19, of Nashua, N. H., and Joseph E. Shepard, 24, of Worcester.

The same jury brought in a record number of 135 indictments, the largest in 10 years.

Alan F. Nightingale, 18, of Plymouth, was indicted on a manslaughter charge in the shooting of his father, George W. Nightingale. He said he shot in defense of his mother, who was being attacked.

Frank Stankevitz, 25, Brockton shoe worker, was indicted on a charge of assault with intent to murder Mrs. Grace Hayward Vera of Whitman, 17-year-old bride of a day, on Oct. 29, last year.

Ralph W. Hutchins, 52, motor vehicles inspector attached to the Brockton office and Max Berkowitz, West Bridgewater auto parts dealer, were indicted on charges of conspiracy to bribe and steal and the latter with intent to extort.

Don't buy Laundry Soap

UNTIL YOU FIND OUT ABOUT THIS NEWER GRANULATED SOAP WITH A DIFFERENCE YOU CAN ACTUALLY SEE!

Amazing New 4-Purpose Super Suds

WASHES UP TO 25% WHITER WITHOUT HARSH CHEMICALS

...so supremely Gentle its RAYON-SAFE!

NOW, a thrillingly different washday soap—with a difference you can actually see! A granulated soap that's really snowy-white (not dingy yellow)—and no strong soap-powder odor!

BUT THAT'S ONLY THE BEGINNING of what you'll find when first you try this new soap innovation. For New 4-Purpose Super Suds is one soap that gives you extra washing power without harsh chemical action. Gets white clothes dazzling white—yet so gentle it's Rayon-Safe! Safe even for washable silks and woolens!

CONSIDER WHAT THIS MEANS! Now one soap—and one soap alone—for EVERYTHING IN YOUR WASH, from grimy work clothes to dainty underthings! A 4-purpose soap for everything from shirts, sheets and pillow cases to silk and nylon stockings!

BRIEFLY, here are the amazing things it does—things that women have never believed a single soap could ever do:—

(1) WASHES WHITE CLOTHES up to 25% whiter than less efficient soaps—without harsh chemical action. Soaks out dirt in as little as 8 minutes, without hard rubbing or boiling...

(2) WASHES DAINTY RAYONS safely in a way that Better Fabrics Testing Bureau officially recommends...

(3) LAUNDERS WASHABLE SILKS and woolens beautifully without need for costly "extra" soaps. Colors stay fresh and bright...

(4) WASHES DISHES sparkling with extra speed—in a way that's really kind to hands!

SO NO MATTER what soap you've used in the past—no matter if you've used the old Super Suds for years—try this New 4-Purpose Super Suds without delay.

SEE FOR YOURSELF how it explodes the old idea that a soap must be harsh to get white clothes dazzling white! See how it puts an end to the need of buying expensive, so-called "fine fabric" soaps for dainty underthings and woolens.

ONCE YOU SWITCH to the New 4-Purpose Super Suds you'll never switch again... Your dealer has it in the big blue box right now. Get New Super Suds today!

... TO WASH WOOLENS, follow Rayon-washing instructions on Super Suds box, but test for color-fastness in soapy water instead of plain.

NO CHANGE IN THE BIG BLUE BOX—BUT WHAT A DIFFERENCE IN THE SOAP!

Fashion

IT'S ALL VERY well to frivol around with pastel and angora yarns . . . no one'll mind if you do . . . but you'll get twice as much pleasure and satisfaction out of knitting for your men in the service. We have some fine sets of directions, quite according to Hoyle as far as service regulations go; we're offering them to you without charge. There's the versatile helmet, either without ear slits and flaps for general duty, or with them for the communications detail. There are warm mittens and two types of socks, one a regulation sock the other a spiral sock; all are illustrated. For your knitting directions, write Annice Brink, Fashion Editor, Boston Evening American, inclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

MORE AND MORE FRINGES USED TO TRIM DRESSES

By BETTINA BEDWELL

MORE AND MORE I keep seeing fringes, used to trim dresses now being groomed for spring. And the kind most used is what they call "spaghetti" fringe that is made of strips of the material of the dress. It's the hard kind to make, but the most beautiful.

I like best the evening dress with a fringed skirt, because such a skirt looks like poetry when you move around. Sometimes tiers of narrower fringe cover the skirt of a slim dress, and other models, like the one from J. J. Jonas sketched here, has a slim white crepe skirt covered with a full-length skirt of stripped fringe.

The waist of this model has appliqued bands of the material set on like a classic Greek robe would have, and the belt is embroidered with silver. A flaring cape of bittersweet red wool and long red gloves add a delightful spicing of color to the white dress.

NEWS FOR MODERN WOMEN
• FOOD •

By Martha Lee

PRUNES CO-STARRED WITH BRAN is an attractive new taste blend that's taking everywhere. Prunes for breakfast have a familiar ring, but prunes on top of a bowl of bran cereal are surprisingly appetizing, while California Prune Muffins, another new item, will liven the family appetite at that early hour.

A fine sandwich spread is made with one cup of cooked prunes, ½ cup peanut butter and 1 tablespoon of pickle relish. Then there's a superb Prune and Rhubarb Pie made with 1¼ cups of rhubarb to 1 cup of stewed prunes.

CALIFORNIA PRUNE MUFFINS

2 tbsp. shortening
¼ cup sugar
1 egg
1 cup all-bran
¾ cup milk
1 cup flour
½ tsp. salt
2½ tsp. baking powder
½ cup soaked, chopped prunes

Cream shortening and sugar thoroughly; add egg and beat well. Stir in all-bran and milk; let soak until most of moisture is taken up. Sift flour with salt and baking powder; add chopped prunes; add to first mixture and stir only until flour disappears. Fill greased muffin pans 2-3 full and bake in moderately hot oven (400 deg. F.) about 30 minutes. Makes 8 large muffins (3 inches in diameter) or 12 small muffins (2¼ inches in diameter).

Note: When sour milk or buttermilk is used instead of sweet milk, reduce baking powder to 1 teaspoon and add ½ teaspoon soda.

Filled with a delicately spiced prune filling, these "all-purpose" Cottage Rolls are tempting for Sunday breakfast, delightful for luncheon and the crowning touch to dinner anytime.

PRUNE FILLED COTTAGE ROLLS

1 cup milk
1 yeast cake
1 cup cottage cheese (cream style)
1-3 cup granulated sugar
¼ cup shortening
1 tbsp. salt
5 cups sifted all-purpose flour (approximate)

Scald milk. Cool to lukewarm. Add crumbled yeast and stir to dissolve. Force cheese through a sieve. Cream sugar, shortennig and salt. Combine yeast mixture, cheese and creamed mixture, and stir until well blended. Add flour and mix (due to variation in moisture in cheese, a little more flour may be needed). Lift to floured board and knead until smooth (about 5 minutes). Return to mixing bowl, cover and let rise in warm place away from air until double in bulk (about 2 to 2½ hours). Form into approximately 3 dozen rolls. Place in greased baking pan. Cover and let rise until double in size (about 45 minutes). With fingers make a small hole in top of each roll and fill with prune filling. Let rise about 10 minutes. Bake in a moderate oven (375 deg. F.) 30 to 35 minutes. If a glazed top is desired, brush with hot honey 5 minutes before removing from oven. May be reheated.

PRUNE UPSIDE-DOWN PUDDING

1-3 cup shortening
¾ cup sugar
1 egg
¾ cup all-bran
2-3 cup milk
1 tsp. vanilla extract
1 cup flour
2 tsp. baking powder
½ tsp. salt
12 cooked, pitted prunes

Blend shortening and sugar thoroughly; add egg and beat until light and fluffy. Soak bran in milk; add flavoring. Sift flour, baking powder and salt together and add to first mixture alternately with bran and milk. Put one drained prune in bottom of each greased muffin pan or custard cup and fill 2-3 full with batter. Bake in moderate oven (375 deg. F.) about 25 minutes. Serve hot with prune sauce. Makes 12 puddings (2½ inches in diameter)

Beauty

YOU CAN BE BEAUTIFUL—Whether you choose to go as exotic as the fiery Lupe Velez these fine winter evenings . . . or enchantingly floaty in chiffons . . . Arline Gould suggests that you be sure of a complexion that's soft and radiant through the courtesy of a youthifying fresh strawberry cream mask!

STRAWBERRY CREAM MASK YOURS IN RARE OFFER

By ARLINE GOULD

DID YOU KNOW that there is special beauty confidence in the rich, soothing natural oils and juices of fresh strawberries? And that there are a few . . . not many . . . cosmetics available in the beauty world which make use of them, to the great advantage of those girls who want their skin to look delicately soft and fine?

Glamour girls of a hundred years or so back revived, refreshed and smoothed out their complexions to a shell-like translucence with home-made strawberry packs. They'd have collapsed from sheer felicity if they could have dipped into the jar of "strawberry cream mask" that's awaiting your inspection in a Boston shop.

Originally, was $5 per copy . . . then a $2.50 size was brought out . . . and now the great event of the year is the once-a-year chance to buy the $2.50 size for $1. It's going great guns right now, and you have until the 14th of February to get some and give your skin the 20-minute renewal of radiance that only the best facial packs can accomplish.

Fruit masks are particularly grand in combatting the ageing effects of weather extremes. Use it often, and be generous with it. You'll revel in its pinky look and tantalizing whiff of sun-ripened strawberries. Within 20 minutes after you apply it, the fragrant, satiny mask which results helps to remove every shade of fatigue and nervous-strain wrinkle.

The strawberry cream mask is unusually pleasant to use because there is no alarming sensation of drying or drawing of the skin, no hardening of the cream. All you'll feel is a deliciously tangy, tingling coolth.

Some masks don't pretend to be anything but a temporary ironer-outer of superficial lines. But this one has a money-in-the-bank effect . . . the more you use it, the finer in texture, softer and smoother your skin will become. When it does an emergency job, to make you look fresh for an evening, the effect lasts right through, until the last reveler takes his or herself off.

To learn about this strawberry cream mask ($2.50 size for $1) phone Arline Gould, LIBerty 4000, except the week-end, or write, care of the Boston Evening American, inclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

British Bachelors Outdo Women in Clothes Buying

WHEN IS A BACHELOR not a bachelor? Answer: When he has no partner for the middle aisle and has had "thumbs down" from all the eligible girls of his acquaintance. That is, he's a single man not of his own choice.

That bachelors in England would gladly become benedicts is made self-evident by the fact that they are the heaviest users of clothes coupons under the British rationing scheme, surpassing even the unmarried girls.

The Board of Trade in London furnishes some authoritative statistics which reveal that at the present time men are far more clothes conscious than women. For the first 19 weeks under the clothes rationing plan, it was revealed that bachelors used 30 clothes coupons to the unmarried women's 29.

BOUGHT SENSIBLY

Nevertheless, the men bought sensibly—overcoats, mufflers, gaiters, mittens. The rumor that women borrowed coupons from their men friends was proven utterly misleading and untrue. Equally false was the idea that parents spent their coupons on their children. Apparently moppets went without leggings and mufflers while parents saved their coupons. The young, especially of the male persuasion, marriageable and full of hope, spent their coupons on personal adornment. Girls of persuadable age, 18 to 30, were not far behind. Still, the men were ahead of them.

Eleven per cent of the men and 6 per cent of the women virgins on middle age and older spent no coupons at all. These apparently were resigned to the drab made over garments which fly no signal that the wearer is open to conviction about marriage.

Fine feathers make fine birds the ancient truism assures us, and we've all seen that "In the spring a livelier iris changes on the burnished dove." We have the old reliable poet Tennyson's assurance for the connection between the impulse to love and a general sprucing up of the wardrobe.

FILL IN THE BREACH

News as to the dispensing of clothes coupons in England may us pause and reflect on the thought that British bachelors outdo women in the buying of clothes. War may decimate population but love and marraige fill in the breach and the above grim statistics in the rationing of clothes coupons conclusively prove.

Pattern 9977 may be ordered only in misses' and women's sizes 14, 16, 18, 20, 32, 34, 36, 38, 40 and 42. Size 16, entire ensemble, requires 4½ yards 39-inch fabric. To get this pattern send 15 cents (plus one cent to cover cost of mailing) to Boston Evening American, Pattern Department, 232 W. 18th st., New York, N. Y. Get ready for spring with our new Pattern Book. It costs just 10 cents and brings you colorful make-at-home fashions for every activity.

—"GIVE—UNITED WAR FUND"—

You Should Reply

DEAR MRS. BEECKMAN

A friend and I are having an argument about whether or not a visiting-card invitation to a tea or cocktail party should be answered. I happened to say to her, "I must answer Peggy's cocktail invitation." She looked somewhat surprised, and said that it didn't ask for a reply, and that therefore one needn't reply. I said that my mother always insisted on our answering all invitations, explaining to us that if a friend had been thoughtful enough to include us in her guest list, it was discourteous not to acknowledge. I have always abided by that training, and acknowledge all informal invitations.

KATE

I heartily approve of your point of view.

Of course, you and I must admit that your friend is not really wrong in her point of view, for we are not required or expected to answer an informal invitation that does not request an answer. But it is the unexpected courtesy that makes for greater politeness. Please don't abandon your pleasant and pleasing habit.

Baer Solves Problem of Flat Tire

By ARTHUR "BUGS" BAER

Distributed by International News Service

We got a flat yesterday and the wife suggested calling a garage. Now in the old days that would have been as correct as a white tie with full dress.

But the old systems are disappearing as suddenly as a cuckoo at one o'clock.

I said, "Dearie, we will call a hospital."

We did. And when the ambulance drove up I swiped its spare tire.

I'm passing the idea along to deserving Democrats. It worked as neat and as pretty as a carpenter building himself a sleeping porch.

FASHION PREVIEW—In keeping with their policy that to sell fashion you must know it thoroughly, Gilchrist's holds its annual in-store fashion preview for employes. Accent will be on fiesta colors in the spring. Models above are (l. to r.) Mrs. William H. Gilpatric, Anne Kelly and Ann Ryan.

Fashion's double role for spring is, first, to make women look their best, and, second, to make everyone feel better, hence the season's motif for clothes will be one of brightness and gaiety, says Miss Grace Sargent, Gilchrist Co. style specialist.

In keeping with Gilchrist's policy that to sell fashion one must know it thoroughly, Miss Sargent told more than 300 store employes at the store's annual in-store fashion preview that the accent would be on fiesta colors in the spring.

Suits will be more than ever in prominence, she predicted, as will slacks, which women will need for defense work and will also find practical and smart for wear around the house.

The mayor departed Boston last night on the Federal Express. It was announced he had gone to the capital to see Dean Landis about something to do with defense work.

Dean Landis was in Boston until recently, when he accepted the executive directorship in the Office of Civilian Defense.

Public Works Commissioner George Hyland was queried. He said he and his aides had been up most of the night, directing the work of clearing the streets.

Cmmr. Hyland said he had 260 plows out during the night in the work of clearing snow from the streets.

He said work of clearing that same snow—now slush—from the cutters had started but he was handicapped by the inability to find men.

The first visible work of clearing the gutters was in and around City Hall—more than an hour after all the girls had reported at their desks.

Commissioner Hyland said he had with him through the night the five divisions heads of the city departments concerned with snow removal

They are Thomas H. Sexton, division engineer of the bridge and ferry division; William T. Morrissey, division engineer of the highway division; Alcdph J. Post, division engineer of the sanitary division; Robert P. Shea, division engineer of the sewer division, and Daniel M. Sullivan, division engineer of the water division.

Oh, yes—Boston schools were open, with many children spending considerable of the morning in the boiler rooms drying their clothing.

Most of the schools outside Boston sounded the "no session" signal.

SHORE PACES ALL-STARS IN GARDEN

BOSTON EVENING AMERICAN sports by Jack Conway

Shore Still 'Darling' of Hockey Fans

IF THEY HAD seats on the catwalks under the giant girders of the Garden, they could have sold them for tonight's hockey clash between the All-Stars and the Bruins for the Army Relief Fund. Standing room will be at a premium when the hockey stars of yesteryear and the Bruins battle. Other than for a handful of seats the Garden was solidly sold out early today.

Eddie Shore is still the darling with the crowd. This was indicated when thousands of people called the Garden box office and asked Tommy Waters to reserve them tickets for the "Shore game."

Great stars like Shore hold their appeal with the public long after their days of athletic greatness have ended. It is because when they were at their peak they gave their utmost every time they were in action.

Shore did as much as any individual player to make hockey popular in Boston. His amazing ability, courage, intelligence and team play plus a reckless disregard of his own physical safety made him a standout.

The Bruins are expected to come through with one of their best games tonight. Despite injuries the Bruins will battle hard for every advantage. It has been this ability to come back that has made the Bruins champions.

Honor Fred Ostergren

Fred Ostergren, Arlington High coach, is deserving of the honor he will receive when 500 persons will tender him a dinner in the town hall at Arlington tomorrow night. Ostergren has done much to improve the standards of high school and college athletics.

During his career as a coach, Ostergren has guided the destinies of football teams at Arlington High, Bowdoin and St. Bonaventure.

"I think the boys of today are as fine a type of athletes and possess as sterling characters as at any time during my coaching career," Ostergren told me recently. "My players at Arlington High have always done the things necessary to win. They have entered competition physically and mentally fit. The fact that our teams have never been beaten by more than one touchdown is proof of my statement that the boys have had what it takes."

Ostergren lived in Roxbury as a boy. This writer was once catcher on an amateur nine in Roxbury of which Ostergren was the able pitcher. I confess that Fred could put so much on the ball when he would bear down that I got back strains trying to keep up with his offerings.

Ostergren graduated from Roxbury high school, where he starred in football and in baseball. He later excelled at this same sport at Holy Cross.

The late John I. Taylor signed Ostergren as a first baseman for the Red Sox after he hit five home runs in a semi-pro game when he played for the Roxbury A. C. against Reading. Ostergren remained with the Sox for a time, and then played minor league baseball. He says Leo Callahan, former High School of Commerce and Notre Dame Club star, was one of the best minor league players he ever saw in action.

Leo was a left handed pitcher and also an outfielder. Callahan later went to the big leagues with Brooklyn and held down an outfield post.

Ostergren was a successful college football coach at St. Bonaventure and at Bowdoin. He accepted an offer to coach Arlington High so that he could be near his many Greater Boston friends, and also help in the development of schoolboy athletes.

Ostergren is one of the most active members of the famous Gridiron Club, and many of their members will attend tomorrow night's dinner.

Fred has served on the American-Record All-Scholastic Board since it was organized, and has had an active part in the selection of the All-Scholastic football team each year.

• • •

The spectator sports are likely to be granted the preference over golf and tennis in the allotment of rubber, according to morale officers of the government.

The Army and Navy will receive its full supply of athletic equipment. This will be done as part of the program to get service men physically fit and to help their morale.

Lou Smith is back in town, following several weeks spent in Florida. Lou brings word that the weather has been cold in Florida, and that other than the horse players, the usual winter visitors to Florida are missing. Florida is having its poorest year financially since the depression days of 1932-1933.

By BILL GRIMES

A galaxy of former N. H. L. luminaries, with Eddie "Mr. Hockey" Shore once again playing the star's role, will clash with the Bruins, holders of the Stanley Cup, tonight at Boston Garden in a benefit game for the Army Relief Society

EDDIE SHORE
Dons Bruins Gear Again

Although the advance sale has slipped beyond the 14,000 mark, there were still some tickets available today. Unquestionably, the supply will be exhausted before game time and the tilt will be played before a capacity crowd.

PICS WIND UP CARD

The Army Relief Society committee has prepared a fine program. At 7:45 the 243d Coast Artillery band and the 10th Coast Artillery drum and bugle corps will open the program, after which there will be a figure skating exhibition by Edie Schelden and Mary Simpson.

At 8:10, the Bruins will make their entrance and then the All-Stars will appear with fanfare of trumpets. After the playing of the "Star Spangled Banner" and "God Save the King," the Roasmen and the All-Stars will play their first period.

The next attraction will be a period between the Boston Olympics, pacemakers of the Eastern Amateur Hockey League, and the Johnstown Blue Birds, in a regularly scheduled game. Then, the "pros" will play their second and final period and the show will wind up with the Pics-Blue Bird game.

Bill Cowley, who is out of play with a fractured jaw, will handle the Bruins. On the opposite side of the Garden ice Cooney Weiland will be master minding for the All-Stars.

BRUINS ON DEFENSE

Weiland will open up with the greatest scoring line in the annals of the National Hockey League, Bill and Bun Cook, flanking Frankie Boucher. During their careers with the Rangers, the Cooks and Boucher accounted for more than 1000 goals. And, unlike some of the other All-Stars, the Cooks and Boucher are in pretty good physical condition.

On the defense, Weiland will start three former Bruins, Eddie Shore, George Owen and Tiny Thompson. And, what a reception that trio will receive.

Although he was willing to announce defense replacements, Weiland would not divulge whether the old Toronto Kid line, Chuck Conacher, Joe Primeau and Busher

Alsab in Cap Despite Weight Blast by Owner

MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 6 (AP)—Alsab, the 1941 2-year-old champion and winter book Kentucky Derby favorite, was entered today in tomorrow's $5000 Bahamas Handicap at Hialeah Park despite Owner Al Sabath's protest over his assigned weight of 128 pounds.

To be withdrawn now, Alsab would have to be scratched.

An all-star field, including Alsab, Challedon, War Relic, Our Boots, Requested and Grams, will go into action tomorrow.

Challedon was nomed for the $1500 British West Indies purse, secondary feature, with War Relic and Our Boots.

Others entered against Alsab are Eternal Bull, 120; Bright Willie, 117; First Fiddle, 115; American Wolf, 114; Figgeritout, 114; Sir War, 114; Rodney, 113; Bold Question, 112; Eternal Peace, 111; Sweep Swinger, 109; Eire, 108, and Incoming, 105.

HARVARD ORDERS SPORTS TO TOUGHEN ALL

Sports with a far more serious purpose than ever before were being outlined today at Harvard. The new program includes compulsory sports for all students, with at least three sports periods required each week.

The sports will be conducted strictly with an eye to making students tough, hard, capable competitors to prepare them for U. S. service. Sports for fun, and the relaxed, no-high-pressure intramural games are out the window for the duration of the war at least.

This news followed announcement by Harvard, Yale and Princeton that freshmen would be eligible for varsity competition from now on, with the sports program for frosh only being carried on only as far as curtailed revenues and other war factors would permit.

While James B. Conant, president, Harvard, declared that it was "hoped" most intercollegiate sports could be continued, much weight was attached to his statement that "traveling expenses and other factors caused by the emergency may make necessary a curtailment in some sports."

In addition, William J. Bingham, director of athletics, commented that "insofar as conditions permit, freshman contests will be arranged in most of the sports," and this also brought a gloomy outlook for the freshman coaches.

Freshman coaches at Harvard include: Bill Neufeld, track; George Hanford, Lacrosse; Frank Vaughan, swimming; Skeets Canturbury, hockey; Al McCoy, basketball.

BIG DROP IN FIELD OF WIDENER 'CAP

By the Associated Press

The list of thoroughbreds nominated for the richest stake of the winter racing season, the $50,000 Widener at Hialeah Park, has been reduced from its original 90 to 56.

Those still eligible, after their owners posted additional fees of $100 each, include all of the "name" horses nominated.

Samuel D. Riddle's Glen Riddle Farm and Edward S. Moore's Circle M Ranch are in a position to take the Joseph E. Widener challenge trophy, which becomes the permanent possession of any owner winning the mile and a quarter stake twice.

Riddle won the Widener in 1934 with War Admiral and has the highly regarded War Relic eligible for the 1942 renewal. Circle M, which won with Big Pebble in 1941, will depend on Get Off, a horse that ran second to his stablemate last year.

Other stars in the field include Miolond, Challedon, Alsab Pictor, Market Wise, Attention, Our Boots, Robert Morris, Porter's Cap, Haltal, Ponty, Dit, Gramps, Royal Man and Sweep Swinger.

Cash Basis, the Howe stable's four-year-old colt, ran the fastest mile of the Hialeah meeting yesterday when he scored a three-length victory in the feature event in 1:38 flat.

Mrs. Louis Lazare's City Talk was second, three lengths in front of the River Divide Farm's Pomiva. The field of eight included five Widener eligibles, although the winner was not among them. Cash Basis was an entry with Riding Light and paid $6.60.

• • •

Warren Mehrtens, who rode Cash Basis and one other winner at Hialeah yesterday, pulled into a tie for jockey honors in the apprentice division with Willie Day, who was aboard City Talk in the feature. Both have ridden 13 winners at the meeting.

Basil James, the Sunnyside, Wash., jockey, increased his lead among the veterans with one winner yesterday. It was his 19th of the meeting, seven more than his nearest rival, Conn McCreary.

Tulane Coach Hits Plan to Let Net Fans Cheer

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 6 (AP) — Emmett Pare, Tulane University tennis coach, would like to hush up right now a proposal by Gardnar Mulloy to let the fans root at net matches just like they do at baseball games.

Mulloy, seventh ranking player in the nation, recently announced that the tournaments he was putting on at Miami, Fla., would be open to cheering, rooting, yelling—anything the paying customers wished to do as long as they kept within the bounds of decency.

'RIDICULOUS'

Coach Pare, one of the nation's top amateur players a few years ago and a professional with Bill Tilden's tennis tours from 1931 to 1933, said:

"That's the most ridiculous thing I've ever heard. Of them all, tennis is a game that requires a tremendous amount of concentration. It's like golf. You never hear anyone yell when a man's teeing off in a golf tournament.

"In fact, it requires even more attention than golf. In tennis the ball is continually moving, sometimes pretty fast. It's so fast that if your timing is just off a second you might miss the shot.

TOO CLOSE TO PLAYER

"Another thing, in baseball the spectators aren't so close to the players as they are in tennis. At tennis matches the stands are usually just a few feet away from the courts."

Anyway, Coach Pare sees no chances for promiscuous cheering during the Southeastern Conference tournament in May and the national inter-collegiate tourney in June at Tulane.

BILL M'CAULEY PICKS FIVE WINNERS

In the first race, McAuley rewarded his backers with Paddy for a $3.60 payoff on a $2 play and followed this up with Punchdrunk in the fourth to the tune of 49 for $2.

Night Editor, paying $6, was McAuley's choice in the fifth. Bull Terrier, $8, in the seventh, and Fencing, $1.20, in the eighth, completed McAuley's grand card.

Cubs Still Hopeful Of Sharing Chisox Lights

CHICAGO, Feb. 6 (AP) — The Chicago Cubs found their neighbors, the White Sox cold to previous hints the Wrigley crew might like the loan of the floodlighted Sox park for some night games this summer. General Manager Jim Gallagher of the Cubs is still hopeful, however.

Gallagher said today he expected to confer with Harry Grabiner, vice president of the White Sox and believed an agreement could be reached.

"KING" MISSING

Ching Johnson, one of the greatest of all time defensemen who had much to do with the early successes enjoyed by the Rangers, will be on the defense, as will Red Horner, former Maple Leaf, Cy Wentworth, Blackhawks and Maroons, and Hooley Smith, who played with most of the N. H. L. clubs.

It will be a treat for all hockey fans to see the old timers back in action again. But it's most unfortunate that Frank "King" Clancy is not able to appear. "King," who was laid low with a severed Achilles tendon one week ago tonight during the "Moose" Ecclestone Memorial in Toronto, would have been the life of the party.

Finney's Uphill .288 Sox 1941 Highlight

By HERB FINNEGAN

A bunch of the boys were whooping it up when Philo Gubber produced one of the new Red Sox rosters. The rookies were combed thoroughly, Ted Williams' .406 average extolled. Then Philo's eyes fell on Lou Finney's name.

"Finney," he scoffed, "Only .288. Had a rotten year, didn't he?"

Did he? Not the way I saw it.

Finney had been the sensation of 1940. He wasn't considered a regular when the Sox went to camp that year. Ted Williams, Doc Cramer and Dom DiMaggio were to be the regular outfielders. But DiMaggio injured his ankle so severely he was out for months and Finney took over.

GREAT 1940 SEASON

Remember how he hit? Slashing and ripping away at a .370 clip into August, leading the league in fact. He kept DiMaggio out of the lineup until mid-season. Then he shifted to first base when Jimmie Foxx was hurt.

His batting took a nosedive in late season but that wasn't entirely his fault. He had a severely sprained ankle, and kept playing only because the Sox were short-handed. A fellow can't hit with a bad ankle. Can't run either.

At any rate, Lou wound up the season with the highly respectable average of .320. A bang-up year, all told.

So pleased was Joe Cronin that the Sox skipper didn't hesitate to ship Doc Cramer to Washington. The Sox outfield of 1941 was to be Williams in left, Di Maggio in center, Finney in right.

Finney is one of those athletes who is never out of condition. His home is in Alabama, and when he's not working he's hunting or fishing.

Never has any weight to take off in the spring. A few swings of the bat and he's ready for the bell.

He started hitting the very first day in camp last spring and kept it up all during the month of March.

"He'll lead the league in hitting all the way this year," was the consensus.

Line drives to the left, line drives to right volleyed and thundered.

FINNEY AND GLEASON

When the Sox and Reds played their exhibitions in Cuba, Finney and Jimmy Gleason of the Reds (he wound up at .233) were the batting luminaries. So they were all the way north.

That is, until that early April day in Owensboro, Ky. So easy, yet so painful to recall that day.

Finney hit three sweet sounding drives, all labeled "triple," one to left center, one to dead center, one to right center. But Harry Craft, that antelope the Reds use for a center fielder, roamed this way and that and pulled down everyone of them.

It's not clear what effect that afternoon had on Lou, but for two months thereafter he couldn't buy a base hit.

For example:

April 20—Lou had been at bat 21 times and had only two hits.

April 25—At bat 44 times, eight hits. Average .181.

April 29—That sterling .181 average had dropped to .170, and thereupon Lou dropped out of the lineup.

What a comedown for a chap who a year before had been blazing the trail for Williams, Di Maggio, et al. Imagine the mental torture he went through sitting on the bench while old Pete Fox took over in right field.

HE RODE THE BENCH

"Where's that .370 hitter you had last year, Cronin?" the opposing clubs used to taunt as the now bench warming Finney walked past their dugout.

How the good-natured Alabaman used to take the heat! But never once did he let on.

"I wouldn't mind," he'd say at night, "if Williams was healthy. But there he is limping around on a bum ankle, and he could be resting it if I were hitting."

Two weeks on the bench. Then a pinch hitting appearance May 13. No luck, and the batting lion of 1940 had slipped to .169.

No sleep for Lou. No living with him for that matter.

"That wife of mine," he used to say, "is going to leave me if I don't stop tearing up her rugs."

Lou, you see, would take his batting stance in front of the mirror, digging his toe into the rug and giving himself the once over trying to find out what he was doing wrong.

May 14, and another pinch hit appearance. Again no hit, and now he had slipped to .167.

Well, on June 1, Lou found himself hitting only .191.

Most fellows in his position would have faked an injury, called the season a total loss and started looking forward to next year. But not Lou.

"I'll start soon," he'd vow, "and when I do they'll never get me out."

It was a long pull. A courageous one. That month of June saw Lou really going to town.

On June 1 he had made 25 hits in 131 times at bat for that .191 average.

On July 1, he had made 65 hits in 252 times at bat, and had boosted his mark to .258. Forty hits in one month. Nice going, kid.

On Aug. 1, he had made 102 hits in 367 times at bat, and had shot up to .278. He could look the world in the eye again.

On Sept. 1, he had made 120 hits in 428 times at bat for .280.

At season's end, he had made 143 hits in 497 times at bat for his final .288.

From June 1, to season's close the records show, Finney had hit at a .523 clip.

Rotten year, eh?

Not in this sourpuss's book.

A good choice, but how about Louis Klopsche Finney?

There's Plenty of Fish Behind Grand Coulee

GRAND COULEE, Wash., Feb. 6 (AP)—There's going to be a heap of fishing in the 151-mile-long lake behind Grand Coulee, even if the spawning salmon can't jump the dam.

M'CLUSKEY IN B.A.A. 2-MILE AGAINST RICE

Two old Boston favorites, Gene Venzke and Joe McCluskey, will appear again as competitors in the 53rd annual B. A. A. games, one week from tomorrow, meet Manager Tom Kanaly announced today.

Venzke, first miler in history to run 4:10 indoors, has dropped down to the 1000-yard distance and will start against Campbell Kane of Indiana and Les Eisenhart of Ohio State. Others will be added to the field next week.

McCluskey, former Fordham captain, who has won more national championships than any other athlete in competition, once again will face Greg Rice in the Billings two-mile run.

Joe has passed his peak but is still good enough to give Rice, Lash, et al., a race of it for 20 of the 22 laps. His stamina is incredible for one of his years.

Indiana, which in past years sent the great Chuck Hornbostel and Ivan Fuqua to Boston's indoor meets, will send Roy Cochran along with Campbell Kane this year. Cochran won the Frout 600 at the K. of C. games last year.

Kane, incidentally, lowered the B. A. A. meet mark for the 1000 last year when he covered the distance in 2:11.8.

B. C. Retains Full Grid Staff

Varsity football at Boston College next fall will function under the same quartet of coaches who made their bow at the Heights last fall.

Signed contracts of Harry Mar, end coach and Amerino "Moody" Sarno, line coach were added to those of Head Coach Denny Myers and Carl Brumbaugh this week.

Marr was approached by a leading eastern college which wished to hire him as an assistant coach. Harry, however, preferred to remain at the Heights. A native of Waltham and a graduate of Boston College High School and the University of Notre Dame, Marr is a representative of a stationery concern during the off season.

Boston College will have the services of co-Capt. Elect Mike Holovak and Joe Repko next fall. With Henry "Hank" Woronicz and Eddie Zabilski, senior ends, Holovak and Repko, both juniors from Lansford, Pa., were inducted into the Navy's V-7 branch yesterday. All four of the lads will be permitted to finish their college careers before they are called to duty with the Navy.

Sophomore Jim Kelleher of Lawrence replaced Ballantine on the quartet when he outran his captain in the final time trial at the Heights yesterday.

LEWIS OFFERS ARMY COURSE IN JIU JITSU

Strangler Lewis, former world's heavyweight wrestling champion, who is in Boston to take a crack at The Angel at the Arena on next Wednesday night, today revealed he has offered his services to the War Department to train American soldiers who may be sent to the Far East in the art of jiu jitsu.

"I made two wrestling tours to Japan and beat all of their jiu jitsu champions," said the Strangler. "The average Japanese soldier weighs between 135 and 140 pounds. They have been taught jiujitsu to offset their lack of weight.

"Our American soldiers are heavier than the Japs. Once they master jiu jitsu they will have taken away from the Japs their old mystery.

"Jiu jitsu is not as baffling as the Japs would have one think. I could teach our soldiers how to beat this Jap weapon.

"As part of their training in jiu jitsu, Jap soldiers keep their thumbs straight and keep hitting the forward part of them against their rifles. This makes the thumbs hard. The thumb is used in jiu jitsu to jab into an opponent's eye, stomach or any other vulnerable spot.

"The great wrestling sport in Japan is called suma. There are often as many as 150 powerful wrestlers in these suma tournaments. One loses if forced out of a circle, if he is beaten to the ground or if he is obliged to lift his face to the sky. As many as 100,000 to 150,000 people often attend these tournaments which will last from noon until midnight."

Lewis will train in Boston for his clash with The Angel. Despite his years, Lewis feels he can beat the champion.

Moore Sent to Yanks to Complete Holmes Deal

The Braves completed their trade for Tommy Holmes when they shipped Gene Moore over to the world champion Yankees.

Previously they had given the Yanks First Baseman "Buddy" Hassett. Holmes, a line drive hitter, who batted .302 at Newark (the I. L. leader was .306), is expected to play center field for the Braves. He's the kid who was given a nice puff by Joe DiMaggio at the Boston Baseball Writers' dinner. DiMaggio was sincere, because he had watched Holmes in action at the Yanks camp in St. Pete last spring.

"He hit more doubles and singles than anybody in camp," said the Yankee Clipper.

The Braves have picked up some prize talent since last fall. Shortstop Frollan Fernandez and Catcher Clyde Kluttz, both from the Coast, are sure-fire big leaguers. Holmes, too, has the stuff. Southpaw pitcher Warren Spahn is the best left-handed prospect to come up since Carl Hubbell, and Big Bill Donovan, a right-handed pitcher up from Evansville, must be good to win 17 games and lose only six.

Who'll play first base for the Braves? Buddy Gremp may be gone before long. He's in Class 1-B. Outfielder Chet Ross will be tried at the post. So, too, will Max West. But it's our guess that the stylish Johnny Cooney will start the season there, now that they have a young speed merchant like Holmes who really can cover the expansive center field at the Tepee.

• • •

Frank Demaree, who was shipped to Hollywood in the deal for Pitcher Louis Tost, refused to report and is back with the Braves. Demaree was a great hitter with the Cubs several years ago, (.325 in 1935, .350 in 1936, .324 in 1937, etc.) but has been slowing up in recent years. He's 32 now but the Braves will take him South and will keep him if he proves he can play major league ball. Now the Braves have to turn another player over to Hollywood or give them some more cash.

Gene Moore

F. Demaree

The Braves will not miss Moore. Although he is only 31, a chronic knee injury and evident lack of hustle have kept him from attaining the stardom predicted for him several years back. Moore's best year with the Braves was in 1936 when he made 185 hits while compiling a .290 average. Nice hitting at Braves Field. Last season, in 129 games, some of them as a pinch hitter, he batted .272. But since Holmes, Cooney, West and Waner bat left-handed, the Braves could well spare him. He'll probably replace Holmes on the Yanks Newark farm.

The Boston baseball writers turned a neat profit of $800 on their recent dinner, and will split it evenly between Ft. Devens and Camp Edwards. The money is to be used to purchase baseball equipment for the boys in khaki.

College Skiers Duel On Dartmouth Hill

By "TAP" GOODENOUGH

A streamlined version of Dartmouth College's annual winter carnival is being presented today and tomorrow at Hanover, N. H. Stripped of the "glamour" and of the festive celebrations which in years past have made it the most famous collegiate social event of the country, the carnival is surviving in the form in which it emerged 32 years ago—as a week-end of winter sports' competition.

Viewing the obvious incongruity of holding a huge, expensive show, in spite of the demands of the war situation and the inappropriateness of large-scale luxury expenditures, the 1942 Carnival Committee decided that the activities of the week-end should be vastly curtailed, but not abolished entirely.

HARVARD IN THE RUNNING

As a result, with the emphasis on competition, a regular six-event ski meet is being held. The University of New Hampshire skiers, who upset the Big Green at its own Carnival for the first time in history, will again resume their duel with the Indians. Closely pressing these two squads for honors will be teams from St. Lawrence, Norwich, Harvard, Middlebury, Amherst and Williams.

Following the custom of past carnivals, the downhill event will be the first held, to be contested this morning on the Moose Mountain Trail, 11 miles from Hanover. The cross-country race will start this afternoon over an eight-mile course that winds around the hills.

COMBINE SCORES

Flags will fly on Oak Hill, one mile from Hanover, tomorrow morning where the slalom course will be set. Saturday afternoon, jumpers will soar into space from the big take-off on the golf course. The scores in the downhill and slalom will be combined to make a fifth event, and the scores of the cross-country and jumping will be combined to complete the sixth event.

SKI SCRIBBLINGS: This has been a busy week at Pico Peak, Vermont, according to a letter received from Janet Mead. Under the direction of Karl Acker, the U. S. E. A. S. A. official advanced slalom school has been holding sway, with the gates becoming more frequent and difficult and the spills less, as pupils begin to become more proficient in the art of slalom . . . The snowfall of last week-end created excellent conditions and everyone in the vicinity of Rutland has been out enjoying the sport . . . Lowell Thomas arrived here today and is a late entrant for the slalom course.

ROMANCE AT MIDNIGHT is featured by lovely Bess Ehrhardt and Roy Shipstad of the "Ice Follies of 1942," which will open at the Boston Garden Feb. 11 and continue through Feb. 22. Miss Ehrhardt is also spotlighted in a 20-minute Fiesta in which she performs the most difficult role of "Conchita."

Sportsmen Show Opens Tomorrow

Everything is in readiness at Mechanics Building for tomorrow's opening of the eight-day annual New England Sportsmen's Show.

The "outdoors within doors" exhibit of fishing, hunting and other sports is expected once again to attract thousands of spectators. Hours are from 10 a. m. to 10 p. m. daily except Sunday, when the doors will not open until 1 p. m.

Each of the New England states and the Canadian provinces will have individual exhibits, and this year added attractions are a Mexican village and an exhibit from Florida, including the "Rotorama" seen at the World's Fair.

QUAIL TITLE TRIALS ON

ALBANY, Ga., Feb. 6 (AP)—Final runnings in the $1500 quail championship field trials continued today with eight top-flight dogs scheduled to make bids for the grand prize. Eight more will strike down the line tomorrow, ending the three-day finals.

This morning, Rumson Farm Loch, owned by Raymond Hoagland of Cartersville, Ga., will pair off with Norias Aeroflow, owned by W. C. Teagle of Port Chester, N. Y. Hoagland's pheasant champion found four bevies in yesterday's competition.

Sportsmen Here To Keep Guns

Fears among sportsmen that they would be required to surrender firearms and ammunition under the war-time powers granted Governor Saltonstall were set at rest today through at statement issued by State Commissioner of Conservation Raymond J. Kenney.

"I can assure the sportsmen that they have absolutely no reason to be apprehensive over the war-time powers granted Governor," Kenney said.

"I have assured the executive department that the sportsmen of the state may be counted upon in any emergency to give a full measure of support to any program of state or national defense, and I know the Governor would not consider any action prejudicial to their best ineserts," he added.

Syl Johnson Signs Seattle Contract

SEATTLE, Feb. 6 (AP)—Sylvester Johnson, the Pacific Coast League's old man of the mound, figures he still can stand out there and throw them past the young fellows. The former major league pitcher, now 42, sent in his contract for another season with the Seattle baseball club.

FUTURE OF SKIING RESTS ON AMERICA

DULUTH, Minn., Feb. 6 (AP)—Practice up on your slats, boys! Champ Torger Tokle says the future of skiing and with it fame and glory, belongs to the U. S.

Who doesn't envy a fellow with nerve and enough steel spring in his legs to jump 288 feet off a ski slide like Torger has done? (Anyone whoever jumped off a 12-foot slide and landed any place from his noggin to his pants has the answer).

The stumpy Norwegian—he's five feet, seven and weighs 165—says Norway, home of the world's great skiers, must surrender its place under the heel of invasion.

So he looks to America to produce the next crop of jumpers.

NORWAY SET BACK 20 YEARS

Tokle, holder of the U. S. national championship, which he will defend next Sunday off a 60-meter hill in this home of American skiing, and possessor of so many records it's a chore to count them, already sees the boys of America moving to dominate skiing. There are the Bietilas of Michigan, already famous with one of them winner last week of the St. Paul winter carnival event; Art Devlin of Lake Placid, "one of the best," says Tokle, and Merrill Barber, Northfield, Vt., another topnotcher.

Tokle jumps against them Sunday as well as Ola, the only man to defeat him this season—last Sunday at Salisbury Mills, N. Y. Ola went to Canada to become a war pilot. His full name is not divulged lest the enemy seek to harm his family.

The war, says Tokle, set skiing back 20 years in Norway. How? Well, Tokle came to this country four years ago, leaving behind his parents, five brothers and three sisters. The last he heard from them was a letter of Nov. 25, 1941, and they "didn't mention skiing." For a family of jumpers, such an omission leaves nothing more to be explained about the future of skiing in Norway, Tokle says. There isn't any—it's been given up.

Rangers Add To Lead Over Bruins

By the Associated Press

New York's rampaging Rangers are four points ahead of the field in the National Hockey League today, after surviving the challenge of the defending champion Boston Bruins last night, and shows no signs of reducing their scorching pace.

While the Rangers were running their winning streak to seven in a row with a 4-1 triumph over the Bruins at Madison Square Garden, Chicago's Black Hawks nosed out the last-place Canadiens, 4-3, at Montreal and Toronto and Detroit played a 3-3 tie.

Bryan Hextall, the league's leading point-maker, and Lynn Patrick led the Rangers, who boosted their consecutive scoring record to 86 games and handed Boston its third straight defeat since losing Dit Clapper, assistant manager and defense star, because of injuries.

Hextall scored one goal and aided in all the others, while Patrick, who had a goal and an assist, became the first league player this year to reach the 20-goal mark.

Desse Smith's 60-foot shot from the blue line with only 23 seconds of the game remaining robbed Jim Henry, New York goalie, of a shutout.

Toronto's draw with Detroit enabled the Maple Leafs to move within four points of second place Chicago to pull within two points of the Leafs.

The Black Hawks had to come from behind at Montreal after spotting the Canadiens two goals in the first seven minutes. Chicago got them back later in the first period and moved ahead for the first time on Cully Dahlstrom's goal in the last minute of the second session.

Gerry Heffernan knotted the count for Montreal again at 13:23 of the last period, but little Bobby Carse came through with the winning tally, two minutes and eight seconds before the end of the chapter, giving the Hawks their second straight win.

At Detroit, the Red Wings came from behind twice to gain the tie with Toronto. Mud Bruneteau scored two of Detroit's goals, one of which deadlocked the count with less than three minutes of regulation time remaining.

150 START IN WESTERN OPEN GOLF

PHOENIX, Ariz. Feb. 6 (AP)—Golf's greatest array of players, nearly 150 strong, started out today on a long 72-hole march pointed toward cold cash and the championship of the Western Open.

For years ranked as one of the major tournaments on the nation's links schedule, this 1942 edition shapes up even larger on the sports calendar in view of the cancellation of the National Open.

Few topnotch professionals were missing as such strong contenders as Ben Hogan, Byron Nelson, Sam Snead and Jimmy Demaret teed off over the Phoenix Country Club course, a tree-treacherous, well trapped flat layout with par figures of 36-35—71.

Six former winners of the event were entered—three-time champion Ralph Guldahl, Nelson Demaret, Ed Dudley, Harry Cooper and Johnny Revolta, but absent, and located somewhere in army service, was last year's victor, Ed (Porky) Oliver.

Over this same course Oliver shot the 72 holes in 275, nine strokes under par, for an average of a point or so over 68 per round. His mark may be hard to beat, but many believe someone in this field can do just that.

Hogan, winner of two important events so far this year, and Nelson, head man in another, tied for runner-up last year with 278, while another threat, Snead, finished nine shots back of the portly Porky. Snead is overdue for a win.

Henry Picard, former P. G. A. kingpin, who rejoined his pro associates here, is another overdue star, and may be a threat. He was paired today in a threesome with Hogan and amateur Bob Walker of South Bend, Ind.

The featured pairing for gallery interest, however, centered on Demaret, Dudley and Hollywood's champion amateur, Bing Crosby. Comedian Bob Hope was a possible added starter.
